1 THE CLERK: James Fletcher.

2 THE COURT: Okay. This is the case of People
3 vs. James Fletcher.

4 Counsels, would you please state your names?

5 MS. O'CONNOR: Aidan O'Connor for the People.

6 MR. SALTIEL: Joe Saltiel.

7 MR. HILL: Reginald Hill on behalf of the 8 defendant, James Fletcher.

9 THE COURT: This is here on the Defense motion 10 for a new trial, and a motion to dismiss the indictment 11 for failure to commence prosecution within a reasonable 12 time.

13 Are both sides ready to proceed?

14 MS. O'CONNOR: Yes, Judge.

15 MR. SALTIEL: Yes, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 Counsel, you may proceed.

18 MR. SALTIEL: Which motion?

19 THE COURT: Let's do the motion to dismiss for 20 failure to commence prosecution.

21 MR. SALTIEL: I guess I'd like to begin to 22 just quickly re-hash some of the key dates, because one 23 of the important aspects is the fact it did take over 24 eleven years for the State to arrest James Fletcher.

1 The incident occurred that led to his arrest
2 on December 21, '90. Mr. Fletcher wasn't arrested for 3 this crime until April of 2002.

4 Now, the standard for a motion to dismiss for 5 failure to commence prosecution in a reasonable time, it
6 is a two-part test as dictated in People v. Lawson.
7 First, that the defendant -- the delay caused the 8 defendant actual prejudice. And that, second, the delay 9 was unreasonable.

10 And I'd like to point out to the Court that in 11 the case People v. Gulley (phonetic), the court in there 12 stated that the length of delay in that case which was 13 only 51 months causes a great suspicion and the 14 presumption that the delay was prejudicial. And that 15 was only a 51 month delay. And here we are looking at a 16 eleven year delay until arrest, and over fourteen years 17 until trial.

18 There are two main areas where the delay 19 caused the defendant prejudice. The first was with 20 respect to the defendant's ability to put on an alibi
21 defense.

22 At trial, the defendant called Miss Sanders as 23 an alibi witness. Miss Sanders testified that she met 24 the defendant in Memphis, around, or the week before

1 Christmas. And this, of course, the incident which he 2 was arrested for occurred in Chicago. So if he was in 3 Memphis, obviously, he couldn't have committed the crime
4 in Chicago.

5 However, Miss Sanders was not able to remember 6 the exact date because of the length of time that 7 transpired.

8 And this is a noteworthy point, because as in 9 the case I previously mentioned, People v. Gulley, the 10 court in that case stated that an alibi witness should 11 not be expected to remember an uneventful day -- in that 12 case that was four years ago -- to negate the evidence 13 from the State. Here she was being asked to remember an 14 incident that was almost fifteen years ago to the exact 15 date.

16 Now, not only could she not remember the exact 17 date, she couldn't remember the name of the hotel. This 18 is significant, because if she was able to remember the 19 name of the hotel, we could have gotten documentary 20 evidence to support the alibi. Even after fifteen 21 years, if she was able to remember the name of the 22 hotel, it was highly unlikely the hotel will have any 23 evidence verifying his presence at the hotel after 24 fifteen years.

1 The second aspect where Mr. Fletcher was 2 prejudiced was with respect to Terry Rogers. Terry
3 Rogers was one of the witnesses at the 1990 incident, 4 and was also one of the people that identified 5 Mr. Fletcher to the police. And if it wasn't for 6 Mr. Rogers' identification, Mr. Fletcher would have 7 never been arrested. And I think at one time the Court
8 even commented itself that Terry Rogers was a key player 9 in this investigation.

10 Not only was he one of the key witnesses, but 11 he appears to have been a potential suspect at one time.
12 In 1995, another one of the witnesses told the police 13 that he suspected Mr. Rogers was involved in the 14 incident, and that was the reason why they sought to 15 question Mr. Rogers about the incident. And they 16 couldn't find Mr. Rogers until he was arrested in 2002
17 for suspicion of arson. It was at this time in '02 that 18 Terry Rogers had changed his story, because originally, 19 1990, he didn't say he knew Mr. Fletcher. All he said
20 was that he heard one suspect say to the other suspect, 21 "Come on, Fletcher, let's go."

22 But in 2002, after being arrested for arson
23 and the police come to interview him, you know, he all 24 of a sudden changes his story. Now his story is, "Yeah,

1 I knew Jimmy Fletcher. You know, I knew him from the 2 neighborhood. We served time together, you know. This 3 was a guy you are looking for for this 1990 incident."

4 So not only is Mr. Rogers a key witness, but 5 he's also a potential suspect, and we were denied to 6 present that opportunity to present that to the jury 7 because he wasn't there.

8 Also Mr. Rogers' statements were used against 9 Mr. Fletcher at trial. We were unable to cross-examine 10 Mr. Rogers because he wasn't there. And this was a 11 violation of Mr. Fletcher's 6th Amendment right.

12 As you recall Mr. Rogers' statement, when he 13 identified Fletcher in 1990, that came in at trial, and 14 again when he identified the defendant by the name of 15 James Fletcher in '02. Both those statements came in at 16 trial. Now, because he wasn't there, we were unable, 17 you know, to cross-examine him and the credibility of 18 the statements.

19 So those are the two areas where we believe 20 that Mr. Fletcher was prejudiced at trial because of the 21 delay.

22 Now, the delay on the part of the State is not 23 reasonable. All of the witnesses were available earlier 24 on. They could have proceeded earlier on. There was no

1 new evidence gathered after 1990, other than the fact 2 that one of the witnesses changed his name.

3 THE COURT: I'm sorry?

4 MR. SALTIEL: I'm sorry. He changed his 5 statement to the police. That was the only difference 6 from the information they had in '90.

7 Mr. Fletcher's whereabouts had been known 8 since '90. In '90 he was on parole. And then from 9 approximately '91 to '92 on, he's been in the custody of 10 the Illinois Department of Corrections. So his 11 whereabouts have been known.

12 The other witnesses' whereabouts have been 13 known. Terry Rogers' whereabouts were known because he 14 was in and out of prison and in and out of trouble up 15 through '95. He went missing for approximately seven 16 years. But in 2002, he was again available, because he 17 was arrested and he served some jail time as well. And 18 it was after his release from his last jail sentence 19 that the State was unable to find him and bring him to 20 trial.

21 So for those two reasons, we believe that the 22 State, that the Court should grant our motion to 23 dismiss.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

1 State, your response?

2 MS. O'CONNOR: Yes, Judge.

3 In response, our first response is that we 4 believe that the subject of this motion is, should be 5 part of a pre-trial motion as opposed to a post-trial
6 motion. The statute says that it should be filed before
7 trial.

8 So we would object to it on that basis.

9 But in addition --

10 THE COURT: What statute are you referring to?

11 MS. O'CONNOR: Motion to dismiss under Chapter 12 725, I think it is -- I'm sorry. I don't have my 13 statute book with me. I should have. It's -- I think 14 it's 725 114 -- 5, but I'll look it up to make sure.

15 It's 725 ILCS 5/114 -- 1, motion to dismiss 16 charge, which is sub-section under Article 114 which is 17 pre-trial motions. And that section, Judge, indicates 18 that such a motion to dismiss should be filed pre-trial.

19 And what the statute does is it lists and 20 enumerates several bases under which such a motion can 21 be filed. This one isn't one of those bases. Because 22 this one falls under the general category of the due 23 process violation.

24 That's what the defendant is alleging. He is

1 not alleging one of the enumerated paragraphs. But 2 this motion to dismiss falls under that sub-section, and 3 the case law that Counsel refers to refers to, and all 4 other cases that discuss the issue of a motion to 5 dismiss based on due process due to delay in charging 6 falls under that section, Judge.

7 So that would be our first argument.

8 If the Court is going to consider their motion 9 anyway, we have several arguments that we believe show 10 that they don't have a basis for, or the Court would not 11 have a basis for granting their motion.

12 And first of all, the overriding concept of 13 due process is to allow the defendant to prepare a 14 defense to a charge. But there are several other 15 concepts that have to be considered in the realm of what 16 is a reasonable delay. And Mr. Saltiel already referred 17 to the Lawson case that sets out that two-step process, 18 and then the balancing the Court has to take into 19 consideration.

20 In addition to that two-step process and the 21 balancing is the seriousness of the crime. And I think 22 that all courts would say that murder would be the most 23 serious crime heard in state courts.

24 The cases that Counsel refers to, Gulley, that

1 he relies on in his motion is a narcotics case wherein 2 the defendant was a known offender from Day One. It was 3 an undercover narcotics operation. The seriousness of 4 that crime couldn't compare to the seriousness of a 5 murder crime. And the statute of limitations here in 6 Illinois doesn't exist for the crime of murder. The 7 crime of murder can be brought at any time.

8 And we suggest to this Court, and the cases do 9 discuss statutes of limitations, that the fact that the 10 legislature has provided for no statute of limitations 11 for the crime of murder could certainly mitigate towards 12 the fact that the crime is so serious that charges can 13 be brought at any time.

14 But in looking at the overall process the 15 Court needs to go through in determining whether due 16 process has been violated, it is our position that the 17 Court also has to look at the investigation itself. And 18 was there bad faith? Was there foot dragging on the 19 part of law enforcement?

20 And we submit in this case, contrary to 21 Mr. Saltiel's argument, there is not one scintilla of 22 evidence that this defendant could have been identified 23 or arrested or charged prior to 2002. He says that the 24 police knew the identity of the shooter in this case,

1 the defendant, prior to 2002, and that's totally 2 inaccurate. The only information they have that would 3 have helped lead to an identification was the last name
4 of the defendant, and that was Fletcher.

5 And to say that because one witness said that 6 a man named Fletcher was involved in the case should 7 have allowed the police to identify him and arrest him
8 and charge him is ridiculous. Fletcher is a common 9 name. They didn't even have an address. It was a 10 passing reference made by a witness who said that he 11 didn't know who had committed this crime.

12 In 2005 when the police were assigned to 13 re-investigate this case and review --

14 THE COURT: 2005?

15 MS. O'CONNOR: What? I meant 1995. I'm a 16 decade ahead of myself.

17 In 1995, when Detective Bogucki and Shalk were 18 taking a second look at some old murder cases, including 19 this one, all they still had to go on was the name
20 Fletcher. And they had found another case of someone I 21 believe named Clinton Fletcher who they got a photo of 22 and found that he had been living in that area and 23 showed it to Mr. Cooper who indicated that that wasn't 24 the killer in this case.

1 That, of course, didn't come out at trial, 2 because non-identifications of a possible suspect could 3 not be admissible in this trial. So that did not come 4 out during the trial.

5 However, all the police reports and the 6 discovery that was tendered to Counsel, certainly they 7 were aware of that.

8 So as of 1995, all they still had was the bare 9 fact of the last name of Fletcher.

10 Now, it's true that during the 90's, the 11 defendant was incarcerated. First, during the 90's, I 12 believe, incarcerated under the name Arnold Dixon. He 13 had before this murder been incarcerated under the name 14 of James Fletcher. Because he had been convicted of 15 murder -- released -- this crime was committed by the 16 defendant, he was not caught, and then he was arrested 17 for and convicted of an armed robbery charge.

18 So during the 90's, he was incarcerated, and 19 still is incarcerated for the armed robbery that he was 20 sentenced to twenty-five years under the name Arnold 21 Dixon. It was prior to the murder that is now the 22 subject of this post-trial motion. The murder prior to 23 this, he had been convicted under the name of James 24 Fletcher. So he was actually out of prison from that

1 murder when he committed this murder, and then
2 subsequently went into custody under the name of Arnold
3 Dixon.

4 So even though he was in the custody of the 5 Illinois Department of Corrections, there is not one, 6 there was not one shred of evidence that would have led 7 the detectives in any way to find that man in prison
8 until the man named Terry Rogers was arrested in 2002
9 and at that time decided to tell the police more 10 information that he had about this 1990 murder. And 11 that it is then that the police became aware of this 12 James Fletcher, did their investigation, got photos, 13 went to the prison, conducted lineups, and he was 14 charged within a very short time of receiving the 15 information from Mr. Rogers.

16 And I mean, I don't know how they in good 17 faith can tell this Court that the police had any 18 information with which they could have charged this 19 defendant prior to 2002. I mean, they not only didn't 20 have probable cause to arrest him for this case, but 21 they didn't even have any investigatory leads that would 22 have led to this James Fletcher prior to 2002.

23 In their motion under Paragraph 20, they say
24 the State elicited testimony at trial that the name

1 Fletcher and James Fletcher came up in the course of the 2 investigation, and that the source of this information 3 was Terry Rogers, who after fourteen years and due to 4 the State's delay was not available at trial.

5 I don't understand the connection of the 6 second sentence to the first sentence here. But I think 7 that it's misleading, because the name James Fletcher 8 was not known to the police until 2002. If they're 9 trying to say it was known before that, they're 10 absolutely wrong, and they have no basis with which to 11 make that statement to this Court.

12 In Paragraph 23 they talk about an eyewitness 13 being dead in the Gulley case and compare that to 14 Mr. Rogers not being present at the trial. And we did 15 attempt to find Mr. Rogers and perhaps use him as a 16 witness in this case. But nothing prevented them from 17 doing the same thing, Judge. He wasn't dead, that 18 anyone knows of. If they thought he was such a key 19 witness to their defense, no one was stopping them from 20 finding him, either.

21 And I don't think that they can complain we 22 didn't call a witness. We called the witnesses we have 23 and that we want to call. If they thought he could help 24 them, they should have called him. Our calling him was 1 not a violation of this defendant's due process rights.

2 They say in that same paragraph the State
3 elicited testify at trial that a witness identified
4 Mr. Fletcher by name in connection to the event, but due
5 to the delay he was not available. Well, they're wrong
6 again. The State never elicited such testimony.

7 And it's curious that in that paragraph when 8 they refer to the State elicited testimony, they don't 9 refer to a page in the transcript that would support 10 that assertion. That's because there is no such page in 11 the transcript, because that testimony never was 12 elicited. So that statement is a falsehood.

13 The concept of a defendant not being able to 14 remember where he was and to prepare for an alibi is one 15 of the considerations. But the courts have held, 16 including the Lawson case that they have cited, has held 17 that the assertion of inability to recall is 18 insufficient to show actual and substantial prejudice.

19 But even if they were able to show actual and 20 substantial prejudice, Judge, it's still a balancing 21 process, and the reasonableness of the delay is to be 22 judged against the substantial prejudice.

23 And in this case a man was killed and there 24 were no leads. And, you know, I mean, there is not in

1 the record, nothing in the discovery, nothing in the 2 trial testimony to indicate that anyone ever had any 3 clue as to the identity of who the shooter was until 4 Terry Rogers was arrested in 2002 and gave that 5 information to the police. So the reasonableness of the 6 delay is certainly explained.

7 The testimony of the defendant's wife, ex-wife 8 about being in or near Memphis and being at a hotel on 9 various occasions, they say the records would have 10 established an alibi. But my recollection of her 11 testimony was that she met the defendant at a motel and 12 then he followed her back to where she was staying. So 13 meeting someone in a hotel isn't going to mean there is 14 records of that person being in a hotel.

15 But even so, inability by the witness to 16 recall is insufficient to show actual and substantial 17 prejudice.

18 I think the bottom line in this issue, Judge 19 -- and again, we would submit that this was, is not a 20 timely issue at this time. But that if it were a timely 21 issue, it still should be denied, because in the overall 22 reasonableness and in the interest of justice, the fact 23 that it was a murder, the fact that the police did 24 follow up any leads that they had, there was no bad

1 faith, there was no foot dragging on any law enforcement 2 agency's part, that this motion should be denied.

3 THE COURT: Defense, you have the last word.

4 And would you please address the issue of the 5 availability of Mr. Rogers or the unavailability?

6 MR. SALTIEL: In what respect, your Honor?

7 THE COURT: Why was he, is he, or why -- you 8 conclude he is unavailable. Under what basis? There is 9 a legal definition pursuant to case law of availability.
10 And the Gulley case, you cited one of the arresting 11 officers was dead, therefore he is unavailable.

12 In this particular case, you continue to use 13 the phrase, "Mr. Rogers was unavailable." Please inform 14 the Court why or how.

15 MR. SALTIEL: Okay.

16 I guess our first response is to the timing of 17 the motion to dismiss.

18 Actually, this was a motion that was filed 19 pre-trial. And at that time I believe the ruling by the 20 Court was there was no prejudice shown. At the time 21 there was no alibi witness. An alibi witness was 22 discovered later, and at that time Mr. Rogers was 23 available. We didn't know until trial exactly what the 24 testimony of the alibi witness was going to be, and we

1 didn't know until trial that Mr. Rogers was going to be 2 unavailable.

3 THE COURT: Can I stop you?

4 You said that this motion had been heard 5 earlier?

6 MR. SALTIEL: It was filed with the Court
7 earlier in front of Judge Garcia.

8 MS. O'CONNOR: I don't have a copy of a 9 motion.

10 MR. SALTIEL: It's in the court file.

11 THE COURT: Could you give me one minute, 12 please?

13 MR. SALTIEL: Sure.

14 THE COURT: I have a motion dated here
15 September 30, 2002, Motion to Dismiss for Failure to 16 Commence Prosecution Within a Reasonable Time. That was 17 filed on behalf of Mr. Fletcher by Joseph Kennelly of 18 the Public Defender's Office.

19 MS. O'CONNOR: I don't think that motion was 20 ever heard, Judge, was it?

21 THE COURT: I don't know.

22 MR. SALTIEL: I know the State did file a 23 response in that. And it was my understanding in 24 talking to Mr. Kennelly that the judge did hear the 1 motion, and he denied it because they were unable to 2 show prejudice at that time.

3 THE COURT: You're right, Counsel. On 4 November 7, '02, it states here that Defense motion to 5 dismiss arguments were heard, motion denied, and State 6 tendered additional discovery.

7 Okay.

8 MR. SALTIEL: One of the points that the State 9 brought up in her response was that the police couldn't 10 have found Mr. Fletcher until 2002.

11 This does not seem to be the case. In 1990
12 they had the name Fletcher. Whether that was the first 13 name, last name, they weren't sure. But they had the 14 name Fletcher in '90.

15 Now, in 1990, the defendant James Fletcher was 16 on parole in the Austin District which is where this 17 incident occurred. Now, it would seem very logical they 18 would be able to investigate people on parole with the 19 name Fletcher who lived in the area. He wasn't running 20 from the police. He would have been available to ask 21 him.

22 In fact, the witnesses at the time were shown 23 photos. We don't know photos of who. But you would 24 assume if they had the name Fletcher and they had people

1 on parole in the area with the name Fletcher, those 2 possibly could have been the photos they showed.

3 So if they were doing this with some of the 4 witnesses, none of them identify him.

5 Furthermore, in 1995 they were able to come up 6 with another suspect and put together a photo array.
7 Just based on that basis, given the fact that 8 Mr. Fletcher was on parole in the Austin District, and 9 afterward he was in custody of the Illinois Department
10 of Corrections, true, under an alias of Arnold Dixon, 11 but they also had the name of James Fletcher associated 12 with that name, they should have been able to find him 13 if they were looking for him.

14 Now, as to the point of the statute of 15 limitations and the seriousness of the crime, this is a 16 serious crime, and that's why the delay is even more 17 harmful, because we are talking about a murder case.
18 The defendant was not able to properly put on the 19 defense that he would have been able to put on had this 20 case been brought, you know, ten years ago.

21 And I think the point of the statute of 22 limitations doesn't really apply there, because I think 23 the point of the statute of limitations is for people 24 who are hiding out, evading law enforcement or cases

1 where they discovered new evidence. The statute of the 2 limitations or lack of for the murder statute, I don't 3 know for sure, but it shouldn't be the case it is for 4 the State to take as long as they want to bring a case.
5 Because that would put people at prejudice forever, that 6 they could wait for no reason to bring a case for twenty 7 years. After so much time, a person's ability to defend 8 themselves against a serious charge is going to 9 deteriorate, as it has in this case.

10 Now, with respect to Paragraph 20 of our 11 motion, I just wanted to point out the point about the 12 testimony that was elicited at trial of Fletcher and 13 James Fletcher. The point of that paragraph is that 14 that information came from Terry Rogers, and we were 15 unavailable to cross-examine Terry Rogers. And that's 16 why him being unavailable is significant. Because he 17 was the source of that information and we couldn't 18 cross-examine him.

19 And I think she also mentioned Paragraph 23, 20 the State did elicit testimony that Mr. Fletcher, that 21 the police had the name Fletcher, and that during the 22 course of the investigation a witness gave the police 23 the name James Fletcher. And although the cites are not 24 in this brief, I know I cited it in the motion to, for a

1 new trial, and I could provide those cites for you if 2 you'd like.

3 And in addition, from that information being 4 elicited through the testimony of witnesses, it was also 5 a point the State made in her closing as well.

6 Now, as far as the availability of Terry
7 Rogers, our basis for him being unavailable is the fact 8 that our investigators have been trying to locate him in 9 the Chicagoland area and were unsuccessful. We came to 10 the understanding that the police were also looking for 11 him. He was, there was an open arrest warrant out for 12 him for another incident that they were looking for him.

13 And I believe that this State had tried to 14 subpoena him, and then at one point learned he may be in 15 Mississippi somewhere, but the exact whereabouts were 16 unknown. But they were trying to work with the 17 authorities to try to locate Mr. Rogers.

18 And even if, you know, him being out of state, 19 even if we were to locate a current address for him that 20 is correct, there is no reason to believe that we would 21 be able to force him to come to Illinois to be a witness 22 in this case. It's more likely that the State with its 23 resources would be the party that probably could do 24 that, if anybody, at this time.

1 Now, to go back to our position that we were,
2 that the defendant was caused prejudice with the alibi 3 testimony. Her inability to remember the exact date is 4 significant, and I don't think Lawson applies to this 5 specific scenario. In Lawson and cases like Lawson the 6 inability to remember was just in general. They just 7 couldn't remember anything. They didn't have a specific 8 alibi witness in mind. They were just, "I can't 9 remember anything."

10 Whereas in Gulley, which is more on point, it 11 was specifically an alibi testimony, alibi witness who 12 they couldn't remember the specific date. And I think 13 this situation is more analogous to that, that we did 14 have a specific alibi witness who testified that 15 Mr. Fletcher was out of the area in Memphis at the time.
16 The problem was she just couldn't remember the exact 17 date, only the general time frame. And after, you know, 18 fifteen years, who could remember the exact date?

19 THE COURT: But when you read Gulley, if you
20 look at Gulley under that issue of defense alibi on Page 21 3 of that opinion, it says to perfect an alibi, the 22 defendant and his witness would be required to recall an 23 uneventful two days back four years to negate the 24 evidence presented by the State. Presuming a

1 defendant's innocence, it would take some unusual 2 activity on the two relevant days to call attention to 3 them to cause them to be recalled by the defendant or 4 any of his alibi witnesses.

5 Didn't the alibi witness testify she recalled 6 these days because it was at that time that her and 7 Mr. Fletcher were breaking up, were ending their 8 marriage and she had left?

9 MR. SALTIEL: She did testify that she 10 remembered these -- I'll say meetings with the defendant 11 at that time. And part of the problem is that there was 12 more than one meeting. I believe there was testimony to 13 an earlier meeting, and although we didn't probe it, I 14 believe there were later meetings. There were actually 15 several meetings. She remembers the meetings because of 16 the break-up at the time.

17 But the fact there was more than one meeting
18 and the fact there was fifteen years difference in her, 19 you know, when she tried to recall which day was was 20 what, could be very difficult to recall the specific 21 day. She was able to give us a leeway of a couple of 22 days.

23 But when it comes to an alibi defense, you 24 know, I believe, you know, to be successful you have to

1 be very specific. You can't just say it was either this 2 day or that. Probably have to be a certain day to be 3 successful.

4 And -- well, and also that robbed us of the 5 possibility of corroborating it with written documentary 6 evidence which we might be able to get if this had been 7 brought earlier.

8 So not only would the alibi defense, was her
9 inability to recall, but also our inability to discovery 10 documentary evidence and other evidence that would have 11 helped corroborate our alibi.

12 And with Mr. Rogers, this was a person who is 13 a key witness who was unavailable. He was a person who 14 was actually a potential suspect as well, which may have 15 had an effect on the jury learning there was another 16 suspect and this potential suspect is a person that 17 identified Mr. Fletcher.

18 And also the fact that in Roger's statements 19 were used against him at trial.

20 All of this caused Mr. Fletcher prejudice.

21 And for those reasons we believe you should 22 grant our motion to dismiss.

23 THE COURT: In regards to the motion to 24 dismiss the indictment, the Defense has brought out the 1 fact that the motion to dismiss the indictment for 2 failure to commence prosecution was heard by Judge 3 Garcia, filed on September 30, '02. It was heard by 4 Judge Garcia on November 7, '02, and dismissed because 5 there was no prejudice shown.

6 After the trial, the Defense right at the 7 conclusion of the trial filed a new motion to dismiss, 8 and now their argument is basically they have 9 established through the testimony that there was actual 10 prejudice.

11 In regards to the procedure that Lawson and 12 Gulley established for actual prejudice, I'll first 13 state that it seems obvious now that the first motion to 14 dismiss was properly filed in time.

15 The second motion here was after trial. I'll 16 consider that a motion based on due process.

17 In regard to the Lawson test, it states that 18 the first step of the test, the defendant must come 19 forward with a clear showing of actual and substantial 20 prejudice resulting from the complaint of delay by the 21 State. And they state that 51 months delay in Nichols 22 was considered great suspicion and a presumption that 23 the delay was prejudicial.

24 And in regard to the prejudicial aspect of 1 that, I believe there's basically two aspects to the 2 Defense argument. One is that they were not able to 3 perfect an alibi defense, and, two, that a witness was 4 unavailable.

5 As I pointed out earlier, in Gulley the 6 unavailability of a witness was based on a death of a 7 witness.

8 I also asked the Defense a question in regards
9 to whether or not this was an uneventful period of time 10 based on the defendant's wife's testimony that she 11 remembers specifically the day, for lack of a better 12 term, their marriage broke up. But the Defense has 13 argued that even though it was the same time period, it 14 wasn't specifically the day in question.

15 So in regards to the prejudice shown, I 16 believe there was prejudice shown based on the delay. I 17 don't believe there was prejudice shown based on the 18 unavailability.

19 And I'm saying this, my reading of case law 20 with regards to the unavailability of witnesses is he 21 could not been brought forward for any purpose.
22 Deceased, incompetency, statements like that.

23 In this particular case, both sides had an 24 opportunity to bring in any other witnesses they wanted.

1 The fact that Mr. Rogers could not be found, I don't 2 believe that fits the criteria for determining a witness 3 is unavailable.

4 It should also be pointed out that even though 5 the State tried to find him and the Defense tried to 6 find him, there were no continuances from either side, 7 that I recall, specifically asking that he was a 8 necessary witness for trial. And neither side asked for 9 a continuance solely to bring in Mr. Rogers as a 10 witness.

11 Go ahead.

12 MR. SALTIEL: I believe that is incorrect. I 13 remember specifically that the State had Friend and 14 Cooper ready to go and asked a continuance specifically 15 for the reason of bringing in Rogers.

16 THE COURT: And after that they decided to go 17 without. The Defense never asked. That is their 18 decision. That was their decision to go without him.
19 The Defense never asked, nor did anyone file a motion 20 here to be tendered or submitted to another jurisdiction 21 of a necessary witness in a criminal matter.

22 Therefore, it is this Court's opinion, humble 23 opinion, that Mr. Rogers does not fit the criteria of 24 unavailability pursuant to case law.

1 Having said that, I now must move in regard to 2 the second element of the test, and that is -- and both 3 sides argued basically the Lawson test. I mean by that,
4 what I mean by that, after the first element is normally 5 shown, the burden shifts to the State.

6 I'm shifting that burden to the State to show 7 the reasonableness, if not the necessity for the delay.

8 In this particular case, a lot of the 9 arguments being brought forward today are not 10 necessarily part of the trial transcript. These are 11 pre-trial or pre-trial issues, or pre-trial events, and 12 basically most of it is an event that occurred before 13 2002.

14 I'll briefly go through those.

15 This event occurred in 1990. After a police 16 investigation, from what I can tell, they had the name 17 Fletcher.

18 In 1995, this incident, this armed robbery
19 murder was considered a cold case. It was 20 re-investigated by two detectives. And they then -- and 21 this is the first time the Court has become aware -- the 22 name Clinton Fletcher came up. And they followed that 23 lead, interviewed Mr. Cooper, the eyewitness, again who 24 did not identify him as the participant.

1 In 1995, that was the issue or the facts
2 before the Court.

3 In 2002, at the time that this Mr. Rogers was 4 arrested, he gave statements to the police implicating
5 Mr. Fletcher as the individual involved.

6 What occurs at that time is that, from what I
7 can understand, there is a police investigation, once
8 again concentrating on Mr. Fletcher. During the course 9 of that investigation, sufficient evidence was 10 established to charge him.

11 I believe it's important in these particular 12 matters in regards to Gulley and even Lawson that you're 13 dealing with a suppressed indictment, which means that 14 the State knew who the defendant was from the beginning 15 of the incident and that they did not charge that 16 individual. I believe in Gulley it was a 51 month delay 17 that the indictment was handed down. The State had 18 asked to have it suppressed for the secrecy of the 19 continuing investigation. The Court said that is a 20 valid reason, but 51 months is too long.

21 So in regard to the reasonableness of the 22 delay and the necessity for the delay, I don't feel that 23 the State could have, based on the information they had 24 in '90 or '95, arrested or charged Mr. Fletcher in 2002

1 when that information was made available at that time 2 they had the information needed to arrest the 3 Mr. Fletcher, and that is what they did, after there was 4 a photo array and a lineup.

5 So in regards to the second prong of that 6 test, I believe there was a reasonableness and a 7 necessity for the delay.

8 And with the reasonableness of that delay, the 9 Court now moves to the third factor had in Lawson. I 10 must make a determination based on the balancing of the 11 interest of the defendant and the public.

12 The factors the Court should consider are the 13 length of delay and the seriousness of the crime.

14 In this particular case the length of the 15 delay was substantial, from 1990 to 2002. However, the 16 delay that I would say could be attributable to the 17 State did not occur until after 2002 when there was 18 sufficient evidence to establish probable cause for the 19 arrest of Mr. Fletcher.

20 Therefore, I believe the delay -- I'm sorry.
21 I believe the State, the delay here, even though lengthy 22 was reasonable. You cannot arrest somebody without 23 probable cause. That is the law in the State of 24 Illinois. They did not have the probable cause to begin

1 with.

2 And the final aspect is the seriousness of the 3 crime.

4 In regards to the seriousness of the crime,
5 this is a crime that occurred on the streets of Chicago 6 in the middle of the day, from what I recall. From what 7 I know, this was an armed robbery murder.

8 Therefore, I believe that based on the Lawson 9 factors, the test that the Court enunciated, and based 10 on Gulley, that the motion to dismiss the indictment for 11 failure to commence prosecution within a reasonable time 12 will be denied.

13 Now, that leaves us with the motion for a new 14 trial.

15 It's broken down into four parts. You want to 16 take them one at a time or all four together?

17 MR. SALTIEL: However the Court would prefer.

18 THE COURT: I think there are four specific 19 issues. I think it might be better to do them one at a 20 time, because you'll get a response to each one.

21 State, do you understand that?

22 MS. O'CONNOR: I do.

23 THE COURT: The first issue is labeled: The 24 Court erred by allowing witnesses to testify about

1 information obtained from out-of-court statements made 2 by Terry Rogers.

3 MR. SALTIEL: We have previously just 4 discussed at, the time of the incident in December of 5 '90, Terry Rogers gave a statement to the police saying 6 that he heard one of the suspects say to the other 7 suspect, "Come on, Fletcher, let's go," and in essence
8 identifying Fletcher as one of the suspects.

9 And then in 2002, during a police 10 interrogation, he identified Mr. Fletcher by name, "The 11 guy you are looking for for the '90 incident is Jimmy 12 Fletcher. He came up to me and told me what happened.
13 I had known him before the incident, and he's the guy 14 you are looking for for this."

15 Now, these two statements, the first one, you 16 know, is double hearsay, and the last one is just 17 hearsay. That's an issue. And we believe it was in 18 error for those statements to come in on the hearsay 19 grounds.

20 However, I think the more serious violation
21 here, and the more serious error was the 6th Amendment 22 violation of Mr. Fletcher's right.

23 6th Amendment is very clear. You have the 24 right to cross-examine those who bring evidence against

1 you. In this case, Mr. Fletcher was not able to 2 cross-examine Terry Rogers. And I think this goes 3 exactly on point to what the U.S. Supreme Court had 4 decided in the Crawford case, and that statements made 5 by declarants in a police interview are testimonial and 6 inadmissible if the defendant has not had an opportunity 7 to cross-examine that declarant.

8 In this case Mr. Fletcher never had an 9 opportunity to cross-examine Mr. Rogers. Now, the 10 problem that arises with this is that Mr. Rogers has a 11 lot of credibility issues. He has a tremendously long 12 rap sheet, over fifty arrests, I believe; I think five 13 or six felony convictions in there. He has a long 14 criminal history.

15 Not only does he have that background, but he 16 appears to have been at one point a suspect in the case, 17 and the police went to interview him because they 18 thought he might have been involved. And only at that 19 time does he identify James Fletcher as, "No, don't look 20 at me, go look for James Fletcher." Paraphrasing, of 21 course.

22 In addition, no one else can corroborate his 23 1990 statement. He said he heard one suspect yell to 24 the other suspect "Fletcher." We heard from the --

1 THE COURT: But you are not saying that 2 detective testified to that entire statement, are you?

3 MR. SALTIEL: No, no. What I'm addressing, if 4 Mr. Rogers were available, these are credibility issues 5 we could have attacked him to attack the credibility of 6 Mr. Rogers. That would have been the point of calling 7 him.

8 You know, the 1990 statement that he 9 supposedly heard, no one else heard that. You have 10 testimony from the other two witnesses who presumably 11 are closer to the suspect than Mr. Rogers never heard 12 any such statement.

13 All these issues go to Mr. Rogers' 14 credibility, and this is something we would have been 15 able to bring out at trial and the jury would have been 16 able to consider.

17 Now, what happened at trial is Mr. Rogers, of 18 course, didn't testify, and the police or the 19 detectives, what they testified to is that at one point 20 they have the name Fletcher, and later one one of the 21 witnesses had given them the name James Fletcher.

22 Now, the problem with the evidence coming in 23 that way is now there's this inference that the police 24 had a reason to be looking for this guy, that they were

1 looking for this guy for fifteen years. They had the 2 name. You know, it was, you know, he was running away
3 from the police, or whatever it was. He was unavailable
4 to the police to stand trial.

5 Also, it brings credibility to that 6 identification. Essentially, it was an identification
7 coming through the police officer. But because it came 8 through -- excuse me. Because it came through the 9 detectives, we were unable to attack it. The detective 10 has no credibility issues. He just says, "We're looking 11 for a guy named Fletcher," and the jury believes that, 12 and they have no reason to doubt it.

13 So, you know, if those statements came from 14 Mr. Rogers, you have all these credibility issues with 15 Mr. Rogers as it brings into doubt the statements he's 16 giving in court.

17 And because these statements came in, I think 18 the Crawford case is very clear that that was a 19 violation of Mr. Fletcher's 6th Amendment right, and 20 therefore we ask for on that basis alone a new trial.

21 THE COURT: But in the Crawford case, wasn't 22 that a case where an officer testified to the specifics 23 concerning a statement .

24 I recall Detective Bogucki, didn't he testify

1 that he interviewed a witness, and then began looking 2 for somebody? He never testified to the substance of 3 that witness's statement.

4 MR. SALTIEL: But the substance of the 5 statement was the identification of Fletcher, and that 6 was brought out through his testimony.

7 THE COURT: But what I'm saying, didn't 8 Crawford specifically address a detective getting up on 9 the stand and testifying to the entirety or almost the 10 entire substance of an individual's statement? Not in 11 regard to what is admissible as the detective can 12 testify, "I talked to somebody," and, "After talking to 13 that individual, what did you do next in the course of 14 your investigation." I think there is a line there.

15 I'm trying to ask you, are you saying that 16 Crawford dealt with this particular type of case, or did 17 Crawford deal with a specific statement made by an 18 officer?

19 MR. SALTIEL: The distinction I was trying to 20 make with Crawford is that I believe when the Court 21 ruled that at this, at trial they were sort of taking it 22 as a hearsay issue. And how do you make that, you know, 23 clean up the problems with hearsay but still allow the 24 officer to give information that he discovered during

1 the course of the information? I think Crawford 2 specifically differentiates the hearsay issue by 3 addressing the 6th Amendment issue directly and saying 4 any statements that were, any testimonial statements
5 given by someone cannot be used against that person 6 unless that person has a right to cross-examine them.

7 And in this case, Mr. Fletcher never had that 8 right. He never had that opportunity.

9 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

10 State, your response to issue No. 1?

11 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, my response is never 12 once was any type of hearsay statement elicited on the 13 part of any single witness in this trial with regards to 14 what Terry Rogers may have said at any time during this 15 investigation. Clearly, that's obvious from the 16 transcript.

17 And I would direct the Court's attention to 18 Detective Bogucki's transcript as the Defense did in 19 their motion between Page 180 and 186 on February 23, 20 2005 when Detective Bogucki was testifying. It's a 21 classic testimony under the course of investigation
22 theory that the Court has already mentioned.

23 And that's well established in Illinois that 24 that is permissible, that a detective can say he talked

1 to someone, and after talking to that person he was then 2 looking for another person as a suspect. No defense
3 attorney or defendant likes that case law in Illinois.
4 They hate it. But it's the state of the law in 5 Illinois, and therefore the Court must follow it.

6 And that's why this Court did allow that 7 testimony.

8 And never once was a hearsay statement 9 requested of the detective or elicited or suggested in 10 any way. Does the jury draw any conclusions? We don't 11 know. We didn't ask the jury if they did.

12 But whether they do or not is really 13 irrelevant, because the current state of the case law in 14 Illinois law is under course of investigation this type 15 of testimony comes in.

16 This Court actually struck some of the 17 testimony that was elicited from Bogucki even though it 18 didn't elicit a hearsay statement of Terry Rogers, and 19 we objected to that. But that was the Court's ruling.

20 So our position is that this Court erred on 21 the side of fairness to this defendant, but did follow 22 the basic concept under the cases that stands for the 23 concept of course of police investigation.

24 Crawford doesn't apply because never were any

1 hearsay statements presented to this jury. Crawford
2 only applies to hearsay. There was no hearsay.

3 That's the bottom line.

4 That's my response.

5 THE COURT: Defense, you have the final say.

6 MR. SALTIEL: At first, as to the point as to 7 the effect on the jury, I think it did have a very 8 profound effect on the jury. Because not only did this 9 information come through the detective's testimony, it 10 was something argued by the State in its opening and its 11 closing. This was a point they reiterated to the jury, 12 that the police had this name, they were looking for 13 this person.

14 Now, as far as to the specifics of the 15 statement itself and the course of the investigation 16 theory, the statement in 2002 by Mr. Rogers was 17 essentially an identification. The detective testified 18 at trial, he was provided, he was provided the name of 19 Fletcher by one of the witnesses. That is the statement 20 itself. And the fact that it comes in, that he doesn't 21 say, "Someone specifically told me it was Fletcher," 22 shouldn't cure, shouldn't cure the issue on the right to 23 cross-examine on a defect.

24 Specifically, what this leads us to is that

1 any time you want to avoid being able to cross-examine 2 someone, you just remove, you know, where that statement
3 came from and you apply this information. That may 4 protect the hearsay issue, I believe, the course of the 5 investigation theory. It does not protect the 6th 6 Amendment problems. I think that is what Crawford was 7 getting at, and I think that Crawford is going to trump 8 an Illinois case, since it's a constitutional issue, and 9 this was a case that was recently decided by the Supreme 10 Court.

11 Just in short, I think, you know, the 12 statements that the detective said Fletcher, and, you 13 know, they had the information of Fletcher, and James 14 Fletcher cannot be taken as any other way as being 15 testimony that came from Terry Rogers. There was no 16 other source for it. It was his statement given to the 17 police during an interrogation.

18 And so those statements were improper to come 19 because Mr. Fletcher never had the opportunity to 20 cross-examine him.

21 THE COURT: In regards to the issue of 22 Detective Bogucki and the limited testimony that this 23 Court allowed in, I believe it was my ruling that he was 24 not to get into any substance of Mr. Rogers' statements

1 to him or to any other officer, be it back in 1990, 2 1995, or 2002.

3 The detective, I believe, testified what 4 happened during the course of this investigation, that 5 in 1990, or 1995 the police were looking for a man by 6 the name of Fletcher. In 2002 they were looking for a 7 man by the name of James Fletcher. That was after the 8 State elicited testimony establishing the course of his 9 investigation.

10 Now, the Defense argues that there was a 11 statement of identification. A statement of 12 identification is that the defendant is, that a witness 13 identifies the defendant as the person that perpetrated 14 a crime. The officer never testified to that. He never 15 testified that Mr. Rogers identified Mr. Fletcher as the 16 shooter in this case or as the participant in the armed 17 robbery. That testimony never came out. I believe the 18 Court in my best efforts attempted to limit any 19 potential problem with this issue.

20 And in regards to Crawford vs. Washington, in 21 this Court's reading of that case, the U.S. Supreme 22 Court struck down where an officer gets on the stand and 23 basically testifies to the events that were given to him 24 by a third party.

1 That wasn't the case here. Officer, or 2 Detective Bogucki did not testify to this substance of 3 what Mr. Rogers may or may not have told him. He 4 testified limiting that after a conversation with a 5 witness he was looking, or the police were looking for 6 an individual named Fletcher, and later by the name of 7 James Fletcher.

8 I think the Defense says that the inference is 9 that Mr. Rogers identified him as the shooter. But that 10 wasn't the testimony.

11 [And I can't tell as a judge if that had or had 12 not had a profound effect on the jury. I can't say that 13 the statement by Officer or Detective Bogucki that they 14 were looking for Fletcher impacted the jury's decision, 15 or that they were looking for James Fletcher impacted 16 the jury's decision.]

17 What I can say is that in regards to the 18 testimony of Detective Bogucki, this Court was adamant 19 we were going to stay within the confines of the 20 Illinois case laws that say that the officer can testify 21 to his course of conduct, and I was not going to allow 22 this officer or any officer to testify as to statements 23 made by a third party to him to get in substantive 24 evidence.

1 Therefore, I believe the Court was correct in 2 following the Illinois law and the tenets established in 3 Crawford vs. Washington.

4 Therefore, in regards to the first issue, your 5 motion based on that will be denied.

6 Now we have the second issue, the Court erred 7 by not allowing (inaudible) Gordon to rebut the State's 8 witness, Detective Bogucki.

9 MR. SALTIEL: At the time the defendant was 10 arrested April 2002, he was brought to court. He was 11 arrested. He had a preliminary hearing, and there was 12 an issue came up over his representation.

13 At that time the defendant identified the name 14 of a private attorney, but because she was not present 15 at the time, the judge asked the public defender to 16 represent him, which they did. And at that time, they 17 entered their demand for trial, and they conducted their 18 preliminary examination.

19 After that point, the next day, there was an 20 in-person lineup. And the judge at the preliminary 21 examination specifically requested the State inform the 22 public defender when and where that lineup would be.

23 Now, at this lineup that occurred two days
24 later on April 20, 2002, the attorney representing

1 Mr. Fletcher at that time, a Miss Gordon, came to defend 2 him during the course of the lineup, and at that time
3 she was not allowed into the witness viewing room.

4 THE COURT: Can I -- at that particular point
5 in time -- these are some facts that were not presented 6 at trial -- was there an appearance filed on her behalf?

7 MR. SALTIEL: No. The public defender filed 8 the appearance at the time, because she was not 9 available to come to court that day, so the judge asked 10 that the public defender file the appearance.

11 THE COURT: So the appearance of record was 12 from the Public Defender's Office?

13 MR. SALTIEL: Yes.

14 THE COURT: Go ahead.

15 MR. SALTIEL: So she came, identified herself 16 as Mr. Fletcher's attorney and was there to represent 17 her during the course of the lineup.

18 During the course of the lineup she was not 19 allowed into the witness viewing room. She was put in 20 the room with the suspect, so she was not allowed to see 21 the interaction between the police and the witnesses and 22 not allowed to view the procedures of the identification 23 process.

24 We believe at that time that Mr. Fletcher had

1 a right to have his attorney present at the lineup
2 because the adversarial process had begun, because there
3 was an appearance made, and because there was a trial 4 demand made, and the fact that the attorney was not 5 allowed into the witness viewing room at the time is a 6 violation of his rights.

7 Now, prior to trial, we did -- we did file a 8 motion on this issue, and the motion was withdrawn, with 9 the understanding that the facts that occurred that day 10 we would be allowed to argue.

11 MS. O'CONNOR: I object to that statement,
12 Judge.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 MS. O'CONNOR: That's not in any records of 15 testimony.

16 THE COURT: I believe there were discussions
17 that the facts concerning the lineup would be admissible 18 at trial.

19 Go ahead.

20 MR. SALTIEL: At trial, Detective Bogucki made 21 the statement that people, that the accused person -- or 22 excuse me, attorneys for the accused persons are never 23 allowed into the viewing room during the lineup
24 procedure.

1 Now, we believe that that was an incredible
2 statement. We believe that there are instances where 3 the attorney would be allowed into a viewing room, 4 specifically in the case where the adversarial process
5 had begun, and we believe that this was such a case.

6 Now, to rebut this statement at trial, we 7 tried to elicit testimony from Miss Gordon, the 8 attorney, at the time that she should have been allowed 9 into the witness room, and that attorneys are allowed 10 into the witness room if the adversarial process had 11 begun, and, of course, she was not allowed to testify in 12 that regard to rebut the detective's earlier testimony.
13 We believe it was improper to strike her testimony and 14 her testimony should have been allowed.

15 So for that reason we'd ask the Court to grant 16 our motion for a new trial.

17 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, our response is that 18 such testimony by an attorney would be inadmissible at a
19 trial.

20 Testimony about whether an adversarial process 21 had begun and whether she should have been allowed into 22 the viewing room with the witnesses isn't an appropriate 23 subject for a trier of fact to consider. That is a 24 subject of a pre-trial motion and totally irrelevant to

1 the fact-finder in determining guilt or not guilt. That 2 was our main argument with regard to this portion of 3 this post-trial motion.

4 If this issue had been heard before trial, the 5 main issue would have been had the adversarial process
6 begun, and Counsel states that it had. We, of course, 7 would state that it had not begun.

8 But that is a factual issue that has to be 9 determined, and that is an issue of law, not an issue of 10 fact for a jury. He made a statement that with regards 11 to it had been determined somehow that all these issues 12 would be brought out at trial, and that is absolutely 13 incorrect. There never was such an agreement, because 14 that would go against the way such issues are to be 15 decided, and this Court certainly would not have allowed 16 that, nor would we have agreed to it.

17 And I'm not really sure if I should even 18 address whether the adversarial process had begun, 19 because I don't believe that this part of this motion
20 for a new trial -- I mean, I think it should be stricken 21 as inappropriate at this time.

22 But I'll address it if you want me to.

23 THE COURT: You may.

24 MS. O'CONNOR: There is case law on this

1 issue, as you know, Judge, in the Clarence Hayes
2 (phonetic) case, cited at 139 Ill.2d, 89, there is a 3 long discussion as to when a person's 6th Amendment
4 right to counsel attaches. And obviously, it's only 5 after adversarial judicial preliminary criminal 6 proceedings have initiated which by way of a formal 7 charge, preliminary hearing, indictment, information, or 8 arraignment.

9 Counsel cites the Kirby case in his post-trial 10 motion. And that case, the Kirby case is cited in 11 Hayes.

12 In this case, none of those adversarial 13 proceedings had been initiated. The fact that he was 14 brought in front of a judge doesn't mean the adversarial 15 proceedings had begun or that a court told the state's 16 attorney to notify the assistant public defender that 17 his client was going to be standing in a lineup. That 18 doesn't mean the adversarial process had begun.

19 In fact, this investigation was, the police 20 were in the middle of the investigation. They were 21 bringing the eyewitnesses to look at the lineup. No 22 charges had been approved. There was no preliminary 23 hearing. It wasn't even determined yet if charges had 24 been filed, so --

1 THE COURT: So why were they in front of a 2 Judge on April 18?

3 MS. O'CONNOR: Because a warrant had been 4 issued. And he was brought, apparently, to a judge 5 because he had been arrested on a warrant.

6 THE COURT: So he was brought in from the 7 Illinois Department of Corrections and a judge in this 8 building --

9 MS. O'CONNOR: Does the court file reflect 10 that he was in front of a judge on the date that you 11 just mentioned?

12 THE COURT: The first entry in my common law
13 record is June 27, 2002.

14 MR. SALTIEL: He was before a judge on April 15 18th, and we do have the transcript.

16 THE COURT: May I see that?

17 MR. SALTIEL: I'm not sure if I have them with 18 me, though.

19 THE COURT: I might ask the Defense at this 20 time, you state on April 18th, a preliminary examination 21 against Mr. Fletcher was filed?

22 MR. SALTIEL: It was.

23 THE COURT: Is that the execution of the 24 arrest warrant?

1 MR. SALTIEL: It was an appearance -- well, 2 there was an appearance, notice of representation, and 3 demand for trial filed by the state's attorney on 4-18.

4 THE COURT: On 4-18?

5 MS. O'CONNOR: It was in front of Judge
6 Sheehan.

7 And Judge, what it was, basically was for bond
8 purposes. No bond order was issued. And the defendant 9 was remanded to Cook County Jail so the police could 10 conduct the lineups.

11 I don't know what Counsel means by preliminary 12 examination. I'm not aware of that as any type of legal 13 proceedings. There was no preliminary hearing. There 14 never was a preliminary hearing in this case. There was 15 no evidence taken at that time. He was simply appearing 16 there so he could be remanded to the jail so the police 17 could conduct the lineups, because they couldn't do it 18 at the Illinois Department of Corrections.

19 THE COURT: And either side, on April 18, '02, 20 did Judge Sheehan find probable cause to detain on the 21 charge before the court?

22 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, I don't have a
23 transcript of that date.

24 MR. SALTIEL: I don't have a transcript with

1 me.

2 MS. O'CONNOR: Could it be reflected on the 3 municipal file?

4 THE COURT: There is not a municipal file on 5 here because of the indictment, and because he came from 6 IDOC.

7 MS. O'CONNOR: Well, I would submit even if 8 there was a finding of probable cause to detain, that 9 that doesn't click in the 6th Amendment right to 10 counsel. Because it's when there is adversarial 11 judicial criminal hearings.

12 And the Kirby case lists those legal 13 proceedings, Judge, and it clearly does not include a 14 Gerstein-type situation hearing. It's formal charge, 15 preliminary hearing, indictment, information, or 16 arraignment. And the defendant clearly was in custody 17 on a twenty-five year sentence where he was in custody 18 anyway.

19 I don't believe that that -- in fact, I would 20 submit that there wasn't a finding of probable cause to 21 detain because he was under a twenty-five year sentence
22 with release not in the near future, and this procedure 23 was on the warrant, so he can could be remanded to the 24 Cook County Jail, and that is what my file reflects. It

1 says no bond, remand to Cook County Jail.

2 But if there was a finding of probable cause
3 to detain, Judge, again, we submit that that is not the 4 type of adversarial proceeding that would initiate the 5 6th Amendment right to counsel. He hasn't been charged.
6 The investigation was still in progress. And in that 7 situation, the attorney doesn't have a right to be with 8 the witnesses in the viewing room.

9 And I mean, I don't think Detective Bogucki
10 had to allow her to sit in with the defendant either.
11 He could have denied her total access to any part of 12 that lineup.

13 THE COURT: Defense?

14 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, I just wanted to state 15 that this attorney was allowed to testify about with 16 happened at that police station, and their motion says 17 that she wasn't, that she wasn't allowed to rebut 18 Detective Bogucki.

19 But again, that is not the province of the 20 jury. That issue isn't one that a jury could consider, 21 or even be confronted with.

22 THE COURT: The issue of illegality of a 23 lineup or the suggestiveness?

24 MS. O'CONNOR: The fact that the attorney

1 wasn't allowed to be in the viewing room.

2 Certainly, you can always argue suggestiveness
3 based on the makeup of it.

4 But these legal issues are not issues for a 5 jury to decide.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 Defense?

8 MR. SALTIEL: I think one of the points at 9 trial that Miss Gordon was attempting to make is that 10 she did not -- she believed that the lineup was 11 suggestive.

12 And not only that she believed that the lineup 13 was suggestive, it was a statement by the detective that 14 the police procedure was legal, and that statement was 15 out there. And that we should have been given the 16 opportunity to rebut that statement, that that procedure 17 was proper.

18 Because, clearly, we didn't think it was 19 proper. And once that statement was out there, you 20 know, it was out there in front of the jury, and we 21 should have been given an opportunity to rebut that.

22 THE COURT: Well, here's what I'm going to do 23 with this issue, unfortunately. I don't know what 24 Paragraph 10 means in regards to the statement filed a

1 preliminary examination on April 18, 2002. And in 2 regards to the statements of Detective Bogucki, that 3 attorneys for accused persons are never allowed to the 4 witness viewing room during a (inaudible) lineup.

5 Do you have that specific statement on Page 6 210, February 23rd, handy?

7 MR. SALTIEL: I can get that for you, I 8 believe.

9 MR. HILL: Your Honor, would it be helpful for 10 us to get the transcript over here?

11 THE COURT: That's what I'm sort of geared 12 towards.

13 MS. O'CONNOR: What are you asking for? A 14 statement of who?

15 THE COURT: Bogucki, in his testimony that 16 attorneys are never allowed in there.

17 MS. O'CONNOR: Is that -- is that on 18 cross-examination asked by the defense attorney?

19 THE COURT: I don't know. I have a question
20 mark here, 2-23-05, Page 210.

21 MR. SALTIEL: This was a question asked by the 22 State. And the question they asked was, "Are attorneys 23 ever allowed in the area where the witnesses are viewing 24 the lineup"?

1 Answer: Not in Area 5. They are not.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. O'CONNOR: That was on re-direct.

4 THE COURT: That was on re-direct, right.

5 MS. O'CONNOR: That was on re-direct.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 MS. O'CONNOR: And I think we objected to 8 Counsel asking Bogucki the questions, the legality about 9 it.

10 THE COURT: The Court's position is that there 11 was a motion to exclude the lineup identification that 12 was later withdrawn. During the course of the pre-trial 13 or, before this Court.

14 I believe that does not prevent the Defense 15 from arguing that the lineups were improper, unfair, and 16 suggestive, in the sense that only -- let's say out of 17 five people only one individual was wearing a white 18 shirt. I believe that that was the basis for Miss 19 Gordon's testimony. Not to render a legal opinion as to 20 whether or not it was a legal lineup.

21 I believe we even had a sidebar at that time,
22 and this Court said she can testify to what she observed 23 and her conclusion that it was suggestive. He was the 24 only one with a certain kind of hair, the only one that

1 was over six foot, that's her opinion. Okay? Even 2 though she is an attorney.

3 Her conclusion, legal conclusion that the 4 lineup was unfair was not admissible. And I think this 5 Court was able to stick to that procedure.

6 However, before I make my final ruling on 7 this, I would like to see the April 18, 2002 transcript.

8 I'm assuming it's not too lengthy?

9 MR. SALTIEL: Four or five pages.

10 THE COURT: Could you call over and have them
11 FAX it over here?

12 MR. SALTIEL: If you call over -- if you give 13 us a number?

14 (Whereupon the above-entitled
15 cause was passed and later 16 recalled, after which the 17 following proceedings were 18 had:)

19 THE CLERK: James Fletcher.

20 THE COURT: Both sides had an opportunity to 21 look at the transcript dated April 18, 2004?

22 MS. O'CONNOR: Yes.

23 MR. SALTIEL: Yes.

24 THE COURT: All right.

1 Defense, your argument is based on the 2 transcript?

3 MR. SALTIEL: First -- and before I get to the 4 transcript, I just wanted to address a point that was 5 raised by the State in respect to the Hayes case when 6 the right to counsel attaches.

7 I do not believe the Hayes case, the facts in 8 there are directly on point in the event that Counsel 9 gave of when the right attaches were merely examples of 10 instances where the right to counsel to attach would 11 start. I don't believe that was an exclusive list.

12 I believe the standard is still that when 13 adversarial proceedings have begun, that's when the 14 right to counsel attaches.

15 Now, I think in this case, you can't just look 16 at one hearing. You have to look at what the State was 17 doing. The State was proceeding against Mr. Fletcher 18 starting in February. February is when they did the 19 identification for Mr. Rogers.

20 Then they got a subsequent identification or 21 an attempt to identify from Mr. Cooper. Then they 22 proceeded to talk to Mr. Fletcher after interviewing 23 Mr. Fletcher. Then they talk to Miss Friend and got an 24 identification from Miss Friend. And then they went to 1 seek an arrest warrant. And they had done this all 2 prior to April of '02.

3 And the reason why I think this case is a 4 little bit different than the case law at hand is that 5 we do have a little bit of gray area, because he was 6 already incarcerated by the Illinois Department of 7 Corrections. So they could delay doing certain things 8 because he wasn't going anywhere, and he was available 9 the entire time.

10 I think clearly at that time the State had 11 interviewed all the witnesses, had identifications at 12 that time, and decided to pursue an arrest warrant.
13 They decided to pursue Mr. Fletcher for murder, and at 14 that time, adversarial proceedings had begun.

15 And at the April 18th hearing, at that time
16 not only did the public defender enter an appearance, 17 but that's when the clock started ticking for his demand 18 for trial.

19 There is not many more things that can go on 20 to show that the State was proceeding against 21 Mr. Fletcher.

22 THE COURT: Counsel, I don't believe there was 23 a demand for trial on April 18.

24 MR. SALTIEL: I believe that was filed with

1 the appearance, and I also I believe that was when the 2 issue of the speedy trial came up, prior to this trial, 3 they were calculating from that date.

4 THE COURT: State, your response?

5 MS. O'CONNOR: My response is, Judge, that as 6 case law does say that the government has had to have 7 committed itself to prosecution for the adversarial
8 level to require the assistance of counsel under the 6th 9 Amendment.

10 And the case law also is clear under, and that 11 the government commitment to prosecution is talked about 12 in the Kirby case, and the case, the Hayes case, 13 Clarence Hayes cited at 139 Ill.2d, 89, and the 14 Appellate Court case of Illinois by the name of Jose
15 Costilla, C-o-s-t-i-l-l-a, cited at 240 Ill.App.3d, 72, 16 both stand for the proposition that obtaining an arrest 17 warrant does not start the 6th Amendment right to 18 counsel, that that does not rise to the level of 19 adversarial proceedings requiring an attorney to be 20 present.

21 In this case, Judge, it's maybe you could say 22 slightly different than other cases. But it's not 23 really different. The only difference is the custodial 24 situation of the defendant. An arrest warrant is

1 obtained. And the case law is clear that that is not 2 enough to kick in the right.

3 The reason the defendant was brought to Branch
4 66 was -- and I think that the transcript bears this out
5 -- is that it was merely for what you might call 6 housekeeping or administrative purposes, so that his 7 incarceration could be transferred to Cook County, so 8 that the police could run the lineups. If he hadn't 9 been in custody and he had been arrested on a warrant, 10 he wouldn't have had to go to Cook County Jail, because 11 the lineups, he could have gone straight to the police 12 station where the lineups could have been conducted.

13 But in this situation, the people from IDOC
14 could not bring him to Area 5 and stay there with him
15 for lineups. They had to bring him there. He had to go 16 to court and then transferred to Cook County.

17 And the transcript, clearly no facts of the 18 case are brought to the attention of the Court. There 19 is no Gerstein hearing. There is no type of judicial 20 proceedings other than to transfer his custody.

21 He was already under a sentence. He was 22 already in custody.

23 I know Judge Sheehan said there was no bond in 24 this case. But really that has no effect on it, because

1 he was under a sentence of IDOC anyway.

2 So, you know, he couldn't have been released
3 from jail whether Judge Sheehan said no bond or not.

4 This clearly wasn't a Gerstein hearing. And 5 our position is that, again, it was housekeeping, slash, 6 administrative so that his custodial situation could 7 allow for the lineups.

8 Under the case law, arrest warrants aren't 9 enough to kick in the adversarial proceeding.

10 So we would submit that that 6th Amendment 11 right had not kicked in, and there was no violation of 12 his rights by conducting a lineup without allowing an 13 attorney to go in.

14 And the attorney that filed the appearance on 15 April 18 was the Public Defender. They did file an 16 appearance. There was a demand for a preliminary 17 hearing.

18 But really, that is a hollow demand, Judge, 19 because the defendant hadn't been charged. There was no 20 preliminary complaint filed. There were no charges 21 approved. There was nothing to be heard. The case was 22 still in the midst of investigation.

23 And it was only after the investigation was 24 complete and that charges were approved would any type

1 of adversarial process begin. And that hasn't clearly 2 -- clearly, that hadn't begun.

3 So that is our position, Judge.

4 THE COURT: One moment.

5 Defense, I'll give you a response.

6 MR. SALTIEL: Judge, to verify some factual
7 issues, I believe the arrest warrant was issued in 8 March, and actually executed on April 18, and no -- to 9 explain the terminology used in the motion of 10 preliminary examination, I believe that came from what I
11 guess is titled a Complaint for Preliminary Examination
12 was filed by the State on April 18 where he was charged 13 with the offense of first degree murder.

14 As far as the case law is concerned, our 15 argument isn't that he was arrested and therefore the 16 6th Amendment right had attached. I think you have to 17 look at the totality of the State's conduct in this case 18 in they had been investigating him for some time and 19 already had some identifiers, and they were proceeding 20 against him at the time of the in-person lineup. And at 21 that time is when the 6th Amendment right to counsel had 22 attached.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 In regards to the issue Number 2, concerning

1 the testimony of Attorney J. Cunnion Gordon, there are a 2 few issues here. I'll try to address them one by one.

3 First issue is whether or not his 6th
4 Amendment right to an attorney started or was initiated 5 on April 18.

6 It's true, I think the facts bear out that on 7 April 18, detectives from the Chicago Police Department
8 had James Fletcher transferred from the Illinois 9 Department of Corrections into Cook County Jail to 10 establish -- or the procedure at that time was to go 11 before a judge and the Department of Corrections would 12 transfer him or that person to the Cook County Jail upon 13 the judge's order.

14 On this particular date, April 18, 2004,
15 Mr. Fletcher appeared in court in Judge Sheehan's 16 courtroom for the purposes of being transferred to Cook
17 County Jail, and the further purpose to stand in a 18 lineup, as elicited on Page 2 of that transcript.

19 At that time the public defender in the 20 courtroom, Mr. Bernie Sarley, represented him, or filed 21 an appearance on his behalf. The judge remanded
22 Mr. Fletcher to Cook County Jail.

23 At that time Mr. Sarley informed the Court
24 that Mr. Fletcher was represented by a private attorney

1 who was out of town, and he asked for a continuance for 2 the lineup. The judge informed him that he did not have 3 the authority to do that, and he further stated on Page 4 3, "At this time, sir, you have made of record that he 5 has contacted private counsel. I understand she is out
6 of town. I suggest before the lineup is conducted you 7 notify her."

8 At that time state's attorney said, "We'll do 9 that, Judge."

10 It was established her appearance was not on 11 file, and that was correct. Mr. Sarley said, "We'll 12 accept the appointment. We'll ask the Court to file our 13 appearance," and that was granted, and the state's 14 attorney informed the public defender in open court of 15 the time and date of the lineup. And I think said it 16 would happen to, on Saturday.

17 The facts presented in the motion established
18 that the lineup was conducted on April 20, '02.

19 So the issue was whether that appearance
20 before Judge Sheehan constituted an adversarial
21 procedure.

22 Now, Defense argues that the procedure against 23 the defendant in regards to this case began prior to 24 that. But I think the case law we're talking about

1 legal proceedings, not investigation. Not the 2 investigation. And by that I mean the interview of 3 witnesses, the showing of photo arrays, whatever else 4 entails any specific investigation. At that time in 5 front of Judge Sheehan I don't believe the Government
6 had made a commitment to prosecution. The only thing
7 the Government had was through the police agency made a 8 commitment to further an investigation.

9 And when you look at going over to the case
10 cited by the Defense, People vs. Michael Swift, 91 11 Ill.App.3d, 361 on Page 4 of that opinion it stated that 12 the Supreme Court has held that a pre-trial (inaudible)
13 conducted after a suspect has been indicted is a 14 critical stage in a criminal prosecution at which the 15 6th Amendment (inaudible) the accused to the presence of 16 counsel.

17 It's my reading of the case law that at the 18 time Mr. Fletcher appeared his right to counsel had not 19 been invoked.

20 However, as the Defense mentioned, in the 21 totality of the circumstances the Court did appoint him 22 an attorney, and that cannot be denied based on the 23 transcript presented today, and that attorney was an 24 attorney from the Public Defender's Office. Mr. Bernie

1 Sarley at that time accepted appointment and was given 2 information concerning a lineup.

3 At the same time, information was given to the 4 Court that the defendant has a private attorney.

5 Now, two days later, on April 20, during the 6 course of that lineup the private attorney appeared at 7 the police station, and she was given the opportunity to 8 observe the lineup. She was not given the opportunity 9 to watch the witnesses' identification.

10 In regard to that issue, I believe she was 11 given the opportunity to, that was necessary.

12 First off, I don't believe that 6th Amendment
13 right had started or had kicked in, and I also believe 14 as a matter of record she was not the attorney of record 15 at that time.

16 Now, she had two days or one day to file an 17 appearance. However, even though she did not file an 18 appearance, I believe the detective had a duty to allow 19 her to observe the lineup, and that she did. And she 20 testified to that, that she was in the viewing room, 21 that she was able to view the individuals presented in 22 the lineup, that she was able to testify to the 23 procedures of the lineup.

24 That's the reason I understand that the

1 Defense called her, to establish their theory that the 2 lineup was suggestive, unfair, and improper. Not that 3 it was illegal.

4 I believe that the questions asked in regard 5 to Detective Bogucki on direct examination was whether 6 or not it was illegal, which is not his theory, or his, 7 (inaudible), should not be the basis of his testimony.
8 That legality is up to the Court.

9 The fact is that Miss Gordon, Miss Gordon was 10 able to testify to how she observed the lineup, the 11 people involved in the lineup, the clothing of the 12 individuals in the lineup, the discrepancy in size, the 13 potential age, and the discrepancy in hairstyle. All of 14 that facts were argued by the Defense in their closing 15 argument to establish that even an eyewitness to this 16 lineup, that eyewitness established that it was 17 suggestive. That anyone -- basically anyone would have 18 picked out Mr. Fletcher.

19 In regard to the testimony presented to the 20 Court or presented to the jury, I don't feel that the 21 jury latched on, if you use the proper term, to this 22 conclusion by either Bogucki or the conclusion that the 23 Court would not allow Miss Gordon of the legality of 24 this.

1 So in regards to the complete issue before me,
2 I don't believe the 6th Amendment right had attached. I
3 believe, though, the Court did appoint an attorney.
4 That attorney did not, the Public Defender's Office did 5 not show up for the lineup. An attorney did show up for 6 the lineup. The detective allowed that attorney to 7 observe the lineup.

8 Based on -- not the witnesses aspect of the 9 lineup, but the lineup that the defendant showed in, I 10 believe that is sufficient, because the attorney is 11 there, and at that time no 6th Amendment right had 12 attached, but the detective did allow her to observe it.

13 She then came into court and testified what 14 she observed which led the Defense to argue their theory 15 that the lineup was suggestive.

16 Based on issue No. 3, the motion will be 17 denied.

18 I'm sorry. Number 2.

19 For the record, what I'm going to do is put 20 the transcript of the proceedings into the court file 21 for further review.

22 Now, we move on to No. 3. This involves some 23 attachments.

24 So, Defense, you may begin your argument.

1 Let me know when you are referring to one of 2 the attachments.

3 MR. SALTIEL: Issue No. 3 has to do with the 4 testimony of Miss Friend, who was one of the witnesses 5 in 1990.

6 At trial she identified Mr. Fletcher as one of 7 the suspects from the '90 incident. During 8 cross-examination and trial, Miss Friend was asked about 9 her pre-trial identification of the suspect in March of 10 2002. In March of 2002, Miss Friend was arrested for a 11 parole violation. During that arrest, detectives 12 investigating the 1990 incident questioned her, 13 presented her with a photo array in which she identified
14 Mr. Fletcher.

15 Now, during the trial, at cross-examination
16 Defense Counsel had asked Miss Friend whether she had 17 been released after identifying Mr. Fletcher in March of 18 2002. I believe her testimony was no, that she was not 19 released, and she was, she went back to jail for a 20 parole violation where she's been since.

21 Now, that --

22 THE COURT: Did she testify where she's been 23 since?

24 MR. SALTIEL: I --

1 THE COURT: Or was that the inference that you
2 felt was made to the jury?

3 MR. SALTIEL: I don't believe she said that in 4 her testimony. All she said in her testimony was that 5 she went back to jail.

6 I believe that the inference to the jury, and 7 I believe this was a statement, a point that the State 8 relied on later in her closing that she had no reason to 9 lie because she had been back in jail, or as you recall, 10 when she testified she was in her Cook County wardrobe, 11 not in regular street clothes.

12 So I think there is an inference she's been in 13 jail since this. We were unable to verify her statement 14 at this time whether she had been sent back to jail.
15 The rap sheet that was provided by the State's 16 Attorney's Office that we had didn't indicate any arrest 17 in March.

18 And I believe that -- I believe Exhibit C
19 shows the rap sheet that we were provided prior to trial 20 which does not show any activity in March of 2002.

21 Now, the difficulty with this is, and,
22 actually, it's still unclear whether she went back to 23 jail after that arrest, because the complete rap sheet 24 appears to indicate there was no time served after that

1 arrest.

2 But so we were -- even with a complete rap
3 sheet, it didn't seem to indicate that she was sent 4 back. So it seemed to be that she had told a lie on the 5 stand of her going back to jail for the parole 6 violation.

7 The other problem with this is that we know 8 that she hasn't been in jail continually since this 9 arrest because of the trouble that the State had in 10 bringing her as a witness to trial. They couldn't find 11 her. They would have arrested her. She would, you 12 know, tell her parole officer or something, all sorts of 13 stories going around. .

14 But for one reason or another, they don't find 15 her until February of '05. When they found her, they 16 arrested her, and put her in jail.

17 Now, we couldn't use that, or to impeach her 18 with that information was subject to another ruling that 19 the Court had made at trial that if we were to bring up 20 any of those incidents where there was difficulty with 21 her appearing in court, that the State would have been 22 allowed to bring up what is highly prejudicial
23 accusations by Miss Friend and helps substantiate
24 allegations that her life was threatened.

1 And that posed us with a problem. Without the 2 proper information to impeach her on her March 15, '02 3 incident whether she was arrested or not or whether she 4 was sent back to jail for, sent back to jail for the 5 parole violation left us with that problem, because no 6 other way to impeach her with her criminal history other 7 than to rely on her subsequent evading of the State.
8 And because of the ruling and the prejudicial nature of 9 what would happen if we tried to impeach her with that 10 information, we chose not to.

11 So the only thing we could have relied on is 12 information regarding her March 2002 arrest, which we 13 didn't have at that time. And that was information we 14 believed that the State should have provided to us.

15 Now, this also became a problem, because the 16 State in its closing argument specifically referenced 17 that the credibility of these witnesses was good, there 18 was no reason to lie, and that they did come here on 19 their own free will. And we believe that was simply 20 incorrect based on the circumstances regarding Miss 21 Friend.

22 And to reiterate the last point, which I think 23 I shall -- not only did the State have the difficulty of 24 bringing her to trial, they had to in fact arrest her

1 and place her in custody to insure her testimony at 2 trial. And that clearly implicates that she wasn't 3 there on her own free will, and there is clearly issues 4 about her credibility, that even though we didn't bring 5 out at trial, the State clearly knew that when they were 6 making their statements that she was there, she had no 7 reason to lie, she was there on her own free will.

8 For those reasons, we would ask that you grant 9 us our motion for a new trial.

10 THE COURT: Hold on, Counsel.

11 You addressed Exhibit No. C, which is a 12 two-page criminal history of Miss Friend.

13 But on Exhibit F, there's a second -- I think 14 you referred to as an updated or completed rap sheet.

15 MR. SALTIEL: It was a more up-to-date rap
16 sheet.

17 THE COURT: Did you receive both of those 18 prior to trial?

19 MR. SALTIEL: No, Exhibit F was received after 20 trial.

21 I had made a request of the State to update, 22 because we were -- because we were, I guess perplexed at 23 her testimony and wanted to verify what was going on. I 24 asked for an updated rap sheet, and that was provided

1 after the conclusion of the trial.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 In regards to her having to be arrested and 4 brought into court, you had knowledge of that?

5 MR. SALTIEL: Yes.

6 THE COURT: And you cross-examined her on 7 that?

8 MR. SALTIEL: No. And that was the issue 9 where you ruled that if we cross-examined her on that, 10 the State would be allowed to --

11 THE COURT: Well, I think my ruling was you 12 could bring that out, that she had been arrested, and 13 the State would bring out, "Why did you not come to 14 court"?

15 State, your response?

16 MS. O'CONNOR: With regards to that last 17 issue, Judge, I think that, you know, Counsel made a 18 tactical decision not to question her refusal to come to 19 court and her having to be arrested, because he's aware 20 of the reasons that she didn't come to court, and those 21 were brought up during some pre-trial hearings and 22 motions with regards to threats made to her and her 23 family. And that is his decision.

24 And it certainly would be -- he'd be opening

1 the door once he started telling having her say how she 2 had been arrested in order to testify. So I think 3 that's a proper ruling.

4 I mean, that's -- once you open the door, I
5 think we certainly should have been justified in asking 6 her why she didn't come to court after being subpoenaed.

7 So we agree with the Court's ruling on that.

8 With regard to all the other issues, Counsel
9 states that he didn't have an updated rap sheet. And I
10 was looking through my file, and, Judge, I don't know
11 when the last rap sheet was tendered prior to trial. I 12 can't -- I actually, I don't have a transcript of every 13 court date. I couldn't find a record of when the last 14 rap sheet for Miss Friend was tendered to Counsel.

15 They said they had one, but that it didn't 16 include a March of '02 arrest. So I'm not going sit 17 here and say I gave them an updated one every time the 18 case was up. This case had been pending for some time.
19 I found receipts, signed receipts for discovery
20 indicating they received Shenay Friend's rap sheet at a 21 prior date. I think it was when perhaps Cathy Dillon 22 was on the case.

23 But I would submit that discovery is an 24 ongoing process, and if they wanted an updated rap sheet

1 -- I mean, they asked for one after trial. They could 2 have asked for one before. I understand it's our 3 obligation to keep discovery current. But -- and I
4 simply cannot tell the Court if I tendered them anything
5 on Shenay Friend prior to trial. I know that her 6 history of arrests on this case was known to them for 7 not appearing in court.

8 But I would submit that regarding the March of 9 '02 arrest, they say it's not on their rap sheet that 10 they have for her. But it's tendered in discovery in 11 the detective supplemental police report, and I'll read 12 from Page 6 of a nine-page supplemental police report, 13 submitted by Detectives Shalk and Bogucki on May -- 14 submitted to the police department by them on May 21, 15 '02, and approved May 24, '02. It indicates -- and this 16 is part of their history of their investigation -- says 17 on 7 March, '02, at 6:40, Shenay Friend was arrested on 18 a parole violation warrant. She was subsequently 19 interviewed by detectives on 8 March, '02, at 1645
20 hours. She then related the following in summary. Then 21 it gives a summary of what she told the police.

22 So certainly, they were aware that she had 23 been arrested on a parole violation warrant. So, you 24 know, if it wasn't on their rap sheet, you know, it's --

1 what does it matter? They knew about it.

2 So I don't think that they can complain that 3 they didn't know about it when it was tendered in 4 discovery.

5 And her direct examination during the trial,
6 she, on Page 131, she told about her prior convictions, 7 one for PCS in '03, and one for PCS with intent to 8 deliver in 1998. Those were her two prior convictions.
9 Nothing was withheld about her criminal history, Judge.

10 And their main contention seems to be this 11 parole violation. And I don't know how they can claim 12 they didn't know about it when it's in black and white 13 in the supplemental police report. That is how the 14 detectives talked to her, because she was arrested.
15 Clearly, you know, everyone knew about it. So I don't 16 think it's a discovery violation.

17 And when she answered on cross-examination 18 about they said to her something in the nature of, 19 "Well, once you were identified in a photo array they 20 let you go, didn't they"? She was like, "No, I went 21 back to prison." That addresses No. 15, the State 22 didn't provide any evidence to indicate she was sent 23 back to jail for parole violation. Well, her testimony 24 is evidence.

1 And you know what? A criminal history is 2 always to be tendered for felony convictions so a person
3 can be impeached. And a city rap sheet does not 4 generally, and also includes parole violations and when 5 someone went back. I mean, in fact, they hardly ever 6 indicate someone went back to prison on a parole 7 violation, because that is not a new conviction. That 8 is not something that would impeach her credibility, a 9 finding that she went back on a parole violation.

10 They could have investigated this parole
11 violation from Day 1. It was in the reports. I'll say 12 no more about that.

13 On No. 16, Counsel says the State argued she 14 had no reason to lie about her identification and she 15 didn't make any deals. If any deals were made with 16 witnesses, they would have been disclosed. I mean, I as 17 an officer of the court, you know, tell the Court that 18 no deals were made with her. I mean, they would have 19 been disclosed. That clearly would have been a Brady 20 violation if deals were made. They weren't.

21 And my argument that she had no reason to lie 22 is certainly a reasonable inference from the evidence.
23 She didn't know the defendant. She didn't know the guy 24 that got killed. You know, there's basically an

1 unbiased witness, Judge, with no deals ever having been 2 made.

3 So my argument that she had no reason to lie 4 is not prejudicial to anyone, nor was it error to allow 5 the State to argue that in opening close or rebuttal.

6 In Paragraph 16, Counsel states the State
7 specifically reiterated Miss Friend's testimony that she 8 had been in custody ever since March of '02. And I cite 9 Page 72.

10 If you look at that transcript, there is no 11 such statement by Miss Friend that she had been in 12 custody ever since March of '02. That is another 13 misstatement by the defendant. It's inaccurate, and it 14 is untruthful that they would tell the Court that Miss 15 Friend said that. She never said that.

16 If they want to infer that from the testimony, 17 they can infer it.

18 But there is no evidence that the jury
19 inferred it, and it was never told this jury by Miss 20 Friend that she had been in custody since March of '02.

21 Did she come out in jail clothes? Yes, she 22 did. But no one said they were prison clothes she had 23 been wearing since March of '02.

24 Again, Counsel could have asked her, "Why are

1 you in Cook County Jail uniform"? And she would have 2 said, "Because I got arrested for not coming to court to 3 testify." But they chose not to do that. Again, a 4 tactical decision.

5 So Page 16 is inaccurate. It's not justified
6 by the transcript.

7 Paragraph 17, the State indicated to the jury 8 Miss Friend had no motive to lie. Yes, we did. And 9 implied she did come to court on her own free will. Who 10 implied that? We never said that. It was not argued as 11 a reasonable inference. Again, inaccurate,
12 mis-statement of the argument. Their interpretation, 13 free and easy interpretation that is inaccurate.

14 Repeated that argument four times? Where?
15 Show me.

16 They cite Page -- transcript on closing 17 argument, 72 to 74. I don't see it. I read all those 18 pages. It never says that.

19 Was she released from custody after she 20 testified? Eventually, yes, she was. Because she came 21 and she did what she needed to do so that she wouldn't 22 be in contempt of court. And she only did that because 23 she was locked up. Because if she wasn't locked up, she 24 wouldn't have been here to testify.

1 But Counsel again chose not to question her 2 about that.

3 Was she told she'd be released if she 4 testified? No. There is no evidence of that.
5 Absolutely none. No deal. Nothing.

6 Because the State chose to ask the Court to 7 dismiss the petition for contempt after she testified, 8 does that mean a deal was made with her and she was 9 promised she would go home if she testified? No. Was 10 she ever said, "You'll go home if you testify in a 11 certain way"? No. She simply was asked to come in and 12 tell the truth.

13 In fact, prior to this trial, Judge, you know, 14 I was prepared to have state's attorneys come in here
15 and testify to what she said at the Grand Jury. I 16 didn't even know what she was going to say. If I needed
17 to impeach her with prior Grand Jury testimony and a 18 handwritten statement, I would have. I didn't know what 19 she was going to say. All I knew, she was going to 20 testify.

21 Basically, they are saying that we suborned 22 perjury in this.

23 And Paragraph 17 in the middle on Page 7, the 24 State knew Miss Friend had incentives to give inaccurate

1 testimony. Where did they get that? That is an 2 accusation that is totally unsupported, totally without 3 good faith, and it's wrong. Who gave her incentives to 4 give inaccurate testimony, knowing it was perjured 5 testimony? How can they assert that without having any 6 proof? It's totally unsupported.

7 Now, they didn't address today what is Page, 8 Paragraph 19, and I don't know if they're standing on 9 their written paragraph or if I'm just supposed to 10 ignore that, or if they are -- I don't know.

11 But since it's there, I guess I'll address 12 that.

13 We submit that there was no blown trial demand 14 in this case. There was talk of the term running, and 15 in December there was an agreement, basically, between 16 the parties as to where we were on the term, and we were 17 getting close to the end of 120 days.

18 In fact, we filed a motion to extend the term.
19 But then we never asked for that extension. I mean, we 20 didn't proceed -- we didn't pursue that any further.
21 Because in December, on December 14, 2004, we did answer
22 ready, and at that time it was approximately Day 116
23 over 120, and the Defense went by-agreement to February 24 7 for trial.

1 And their reasons for that are on the record,
2 and it's clear it was by-agreement. If they're saying
3 it wasn't now, then, you know, I mean, the court record
4 bears out that that was a by-agreement date, and as I 5 put on the record in February about the additional 6 twenty-one days, when there's a by-agreement date during 7 the last, when you're that close to the end of the term
8 and there's a by-agreement date under the statute 1035
9 you get an additional twenty-one days.

10 So that on February 7 when they once again 11 started their demand and the case went to 2-22, that is 12 an additional fifteen days.

13 Even if we were at Day 120 over 120 on 14 December 14, we still wouldn't have been at the end of 15 the term on February 22 because of the additional 16 twenty-one days.

17 So I think this Paragraph 19 is unsupported, 18 and they never filed a motion to dismiss based on speedy 19 trial prior to trial, which if they firmly believe that 20 the demand, that the term had run, they certainly would 21 have filed such a motion prior to this trial, which they 22 didn't do. Which indicates that they don't really 23 believe that, Judge.

24 And we don't believe that. And I think the 1 trial record supports the defendant's right to a speedy 2 trial wasn't violated.

3 I have nothing more to respond to Paragraph 3
4 or Section 3.

5 THE COURT: Defense, once again, you have the 6 last word.

7 MR. SALTIEL: With respect to this last 8 paragraph, 19, we weren't arguing and we are not arguing 9 there was a violation of the speedy trial statute.

10 The argument in Paragraph 19 is that the State
11 was fully aware of the difficulties in getting Miss 12 Friend to trial because they'd have to get an extra 13 twenty-one days to do the trial just specifically to go 14 out and find Miss Friend, that she was not willing to 15 show up and testify at trial.

16 And I think the State makes my point very 17 clearly that she was not a trustworthy witness. The 18 State didn't even know what was going to come out of her 19 mouth.

20 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, I'm really sorry. Can I 21 add one argument before he gets into his response?

22 THE COURT: Go ahead.

23 MS. O'CONNOR: With regards to their 24 allegations that we committed a discovery violation with

1 regards to Miss Friend's going back to prison, even 2 though it's in the report, they interviewed her and took 3 copious notes on an interview that they had with her.
4 Their investigator interviewed her and apparently had 5 the opportunity to question her about anything and 6 everything that they wanted to talk to her about.

7 So that was another opportunity they had that 8 they could have inquired into that parole issue.

9 THE COURT: When did this occur?

10 MR. SALTIEL: Your Honor -- because this 11 brings up a very good point, as we did interview her and 12 we specifically asked her about the March 2002 incident, 13 and she indicated to us that she was released that 14 (inaudible.) That's why her statements at trial were 15 such a surprise. Not all the statements we asked her 16 were in the notes, and that part was not in the notes.
17 That was something she said to us verbally. We didn't 18 record everything. That's why we couldn't impeach her 19 with that.

20 The issue is we didn't know about her arrest, 21 the issue about what happened afterward.

22 And to be quite honest, right now, I'm not 23 sure whether she went back to jail or not. We still 24 don't know for sure, you know, based on the rap sheet

1 which I guess the State is saying wouldn't indicate
2 whether she went back to jail or not. You can't tell.
3 We should have been entitled to that information,
4 because it dealt very crucially with their credibility.
5 If she identifies Mr. Fletcher being arrested for a 6 parole violation and then is released, that has serious 7 consequences to her credibility before a jury. Even 8 though she wasn't offered a deal, there is some 9 inference that she received preferential treatment.

10 If she went back to jail, there is no
11 inference. But we don't know that for sure. I'm not 12 sure if we still know that. That is information we 13 should have had prior to trial, especially concerning 14 that Miss Friend had given us different information.

15 MS. O'CONNOR: To answer your question, Judge, 16 the notes that we were tendered very late in the game,
17 in fact, weren't tendered until I asked for them, maybe 18 like the day of trial, they are only dated March 24, 19 with no year.

20 But the FAX date is October 29, '04 where it 21 was FAX'ed to Jenner and Block by their investigator.
22 So -- and there is nothing on there about her responding 23 to any questions about her parole violation. Which of 24 course, since trial, if Counsel really wanted to know,

1 he certainly could have found out.

2 THE COURT: Go ahead, Defense.

3 MR. SALTIEL: With respect to those notes, 4 clearly they weren't given to the State on the eve of 5 trial. If they were sent to her this October, that was 6 three months prior to trial.

7 MS. O'CONNOR: They weren't sent to me in 8 October, Judge.

9 MR. SALTIEL: This was an issue of one of the 10 pre-trial hearing dates, and I'm --

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. SALTIEL: Because they were tendered and 13 it was discussed and tendered shortly thereafter that 14 meeting, and it was clearly before December. They had 15 at least several months.

16 With respect to the statements made during the 17 closing, it's very clear in the transcript that the 18 State argued, and I believe the motion is correct, at 19 least four times she stated that Miss Friend had no 20 reason to lie.

21 And that is on Pages 72 through 74. She 22 repeated that over and over. You know, she came here to 23 tell you the truth. She has no motive to lie. She did 24 repeat this. It's clearly in the transcript.

1 And the problem with that is given the history
2 of Miss Friend and the difficulties she had coming to 3 court, we think that that is, those were improper
4 statements.

5 But the biggest problem for us is we were 6 unable to impeach her about her arrest after the March 7 15th identification of Mr. Fletcher, because we were 8 never privy to that information.

9 THE COURT: Let me ask you. Did you receive 10 the nine-page sup that said she had was arrested on 11 March 7, '02, for a parole violation warrant?

12 MR. SALTIEL: Yes.

13 THE COURT: And the updated rap sheet you
14 received afterwards -- are you saying that the Chicago
15 Police criminal history reports deal with parole 16 violations?

17 MR. SALTIEL: Your Honor, I will admit, I'm 18 not an expert on what the Chicago histories --

19 THE COURT: Well, the updated rap sheet that 20 you do have, does it --

21 MR. SALTIEL: It usually lists whether there 22 was convictions and court dispositions.

23 THE COURT: Right.

24 But it mentions a sentence of Illinois

1 Department of Corrections time, but the parole
2 violations I don't believe are part of an updated rap
3 sheet.

4 And I'm looking at both ones that were 5 tendered on Miss Friend, and it doesn't establish one 6 way or the other a parole violation and the result of a 7 parole violation.

8 So if you had received that document, are you 9 saying that your cross-examination of her would have 10 been based on that document?

11 MR. SALTIEL: No. What I'm saying, we should 12 have received that information to indicate whether she 13 had or had not, because I think it's directly relevant 14 to this case.

15 THE COURT: Where would that information come 16 from?

17 I'm sort of confused here. You had an 18 individual Miss Friend testify in court that she gave a 19 statement on March 2. You had information that she had 20 been arrested on a parole violation.

21 Your investigator interviewed her with another 22 party present?

23 MR. SALTIEL: There were several.

24 THE COURT: That could have been addressed by

1 way of impeachment based on an oral statement.

2 MR. SALTIEL: The issue with that oral 3 statement is the person who was, it was given to was 4 counsel of record, me. And there was no other third 5 party to verify it.

6 THE COURT: All right.

7 In regards to issue No. 3 -- and this is now 8 the the testimony of Miss Friend -- she testified as to 9 a photo array, and a, and that she was released from 10 custody after identifying Mr. Fletcher.

11 The issue that the Defense brings out is that 12 they did not know the result of the parole violation.

13 I believe Paragraph 15 says the State did not 14 produce any evidence to indicate that Miss Friend was 15 sent back to jail for a parole violation.

16 Well, there was evidence presented. That 17 would be the testimony of Miss Friend. The inference 18 that the jury could or could not have drawn -- and I
19 don't see the inference that Miss Friend was in custody 20 from March of '02 until the trial date. I don't see 21 that. I didn't see it in the transcript. I don't see 22 see it here. I believe she testified, and I believe she 23 was subject to intense cross-examination.

24 In regards to the statements that Miss Friend

1 had no motive to lie in closing arguments, that is a 2 logical inference that the State drew because it was 3 implied that she came to court of her own free will.

4 Now, that's an issue that both sides had 5 knowledge of, and I believe, again, this case was around 6 for some time, and the State at one time made an offer, 7 asked the Court for a ruling or an offer of proof in 8 regards to that particular line of questioning of her 9 reasons for not coming to court. I believe it was 10 presented to the Court in front of Counsel and on the 11 record the date and the specific allegations that Miss 12 Friend's was making or made to potential or threatening 13 -- not potential but threatening events in her life.

14 Thereafter, the State made a motion. The 15 Defense wanted to bring out the fact that she was here
16 pursuant to a warrant. I said, that would be fine. I 17 believe the Court's ruling was, "But that opens the door 18 to the testimony of Miss Friend of why she wouldn't be 19 here."

20 I believe at one point the Defense argues that 21 that would have been unsubstantiated threats against 22 Miss Friend. Again, the testimony of an individual 23 before the court is evidence. And I believe it was a 24 specific trial strategy not to get those alleged

1 threats, one way or the other, in front of the Court.

2 In regards to the issue of this discovery 3 violation, the discovery principles as established in 4 Brady vs. Maryland is to give all information to both 5 sides. There is a continuing discovery demand, back and 6 forth.

7 Now, here, we have -- and it's been the 8 Defense argument that the issue was not that they didn't 9 know about the arrest, and not that they didn't know 10 about the violation of parole warrant, because that's on 11 Page 6 of the supplemental report, the issue becomes 12 whether or not she went back.

13 And my thing is, the Defense is arguing if 14 they had the rap sheet that is part of the exhibit, I 15 believe Exhibit F, they would have been able to use that 16 for cross-examination. That document doesn't establish 17 one way or the other whether or not she went back.

18 As a matter of fact, it just says an arrest on 19 a warrant for that date. I believe in March of '02, it 20 shows it's a warrant.

21 So the information was definitely given to the 22 Defense that specific document was not updated. I don't 23 feel that that is a violation of Brady.

24 However, I do have to say that both sides had

1 a tremendous amount of opportunity to investigate all 2 issues here. And the fact that Miss Friend, all of her 3 -- let's say everything in her life was before this 4 Court. Her arrest warrant for parole violations. She 5 testified that she had been convicted twice for 6 possession in '03, possession with intent in '98. The 7 Defense had the opportunity and has, as he mentioned
8 today, had the opportunity to interview Miss Friend 9 numerous times prior to trial.

10 Lastly, in regards to the issue here of 11 whether or not she received any preferential treatment 12 or the inaccurate testimony or perjured testimony, what 13 both sides had was a reluctant witness in the sense that 14 she didn't really want to come to court, but when she 15 came to court she testified.

16 The Defense had the opportunity to impeach her 17 based on prior statements made to the Grand Jury which 18 there was no impeachment on that, based on statements 19 made to any of their investigators. So there was plenty 20 of material and opportunity to cross-examine Miss 21 Friend.

22 Now, I don't believe either side as they sit 23 here now can tell us what happened to her after she gave 24 that identification. But it was her testimony that

1 there were no deals. I believe on cross-examination
2 they asked, "Did you get to go home"? She said, "No, I
3 had to go back for my parole violation." That was her 4 testimony. Nothing in the tendered document established
5 that that was not true. And I mean, nothing in her 6 criminal rap sheet, even the one that was not updated 7 doesn't say that that is true or not true. So that was 8 her testimony.

9 The other thing, I believe a report was 10 tendered in the course of discovery that there was a 11 parole violation warrant. Both sides had opportunity to 12 subpoena the Illinois Department of Corrections. This 13 case was around a long time. Demand went all the way to 14 116, plus fifteen days. It was on this call for I 15 believe three years.

16 Therefore, I don't feel that there was a 17 violation of Brady. That fact that she was arrested on 18 a violation of problem warrant was tendered in plenty of 19 time. It's no doubt that the updated rap sheet was not.
20 But even if the updated rap sheet doesn't get into that 21 fact, what happened to her on a VOP warrant, now, the 22 fact that Mr. Fletcher was not able to verify or impeach
23 Miss Friend's statements regarding her parole violation, 24 I believe they could have.

1 And the Court erred by ruling that if 2 Mr. Fletcher attempted to impeach Miss Friend due to her
3 failure to appear the State would be allowed to elicit
4 testimony and regard to understand substantiated threat.
5 I never heard the substance of those threats from Miss 6 Friend, because it was after my ruling the Defense
7 decided not to cross-examine her anymore. Again, that 8 is more trial strategy than anything else at this time.

9 In regards to Paragraph 19, I believe the 10 Court was proper in making their rulings on this 120 day
11 speedy trial demand. As I think both sides realized 12 this case has been around, the term was running, the 13 demand was running, there were motions filed, 14 continuances filed, and demands filed, and I believe the 15 prior rulings by the Court were proper.

16 In regards to closing arguments, the facts,
17 the argument by the State was not improper, and I do not 18 go along with all the Defense arguments that certain 19 inferences were made.

20 The one that the Court does not see at all as 21 the inference that Miss Friend had been in custody from 22 March of '02 until the trial date.

23 Having said that, I don't feel the State has 24 met their burden on this issue --

1 MS. O'CONNOR: The State?

2 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I'm sorry. What did I 3 say?

4 MS. O'CONNOR: You said you felt the State 5 hasn't.

6 THE COURT: I'm sorry. The Defense had not 7 met their burden in this regards.

8 Therefore on Count 3, motion will be denied.

9 Count 4. I believe I don't need to look at -- 10 we're on issue Number 4.

11 MR. SALTIEL: Your Honor, it was our position 12 that the jury's verdict was against the manifest weight 13 of the evidence.

14 First off, there was no physical evidence that 15 was presented at trial. The only evidence that was 16 presented was the eyewitness identification of two 17 witnesses.

18 As is often quoted, it seems to be the term of 19 art, reliability is the lynchpin of the identification 20 testimony, and I don't think either of these witnesses 21 were reliable.

22 First with Mr. Cooper, looking at his 23 description of the events and the descriptions of the 24 suspects at the time, he gives a very vague and general

1 description. The general height, general weight, he 2 gives an estimate of age, but no real physical 3 characteristics other than that one of the suspects had 4 collar length curl and the other suspect had a ponytail.
5 Other than that, there was no other physical description
6 given by Mr. Cooper.

7 In fact, after he was shown a photo array by 8 the detectives, he testified that he could not be 9 completely sure based on that photo array.

10 He then saw an in-person lineup, and after the 11 in-person lineup he stated to our investigator that he 12 could only be 75 percent sure of his identification at 13 that time because it's been too long since the incident, 14 and that was in 2004, September, a few months prior to 15 trial.

16 Now, the other eyewitness, Miss Friend, was 17 unable to give any description of one of the suspects, 18 and even I believe stated she couldn't identify the 19 other suspect if she had to. She was only able to give 20 a very limited description of Mr. Fletcher, and that 21 description was essentially that the suspect had dark 22 clothing on, and that, and the suspect was carrying a 23 black skull hat. There was no physical description, any 24 features, any general height, weight, given by Miss

1 Friend.

2 Miss Friend obviously had a lot of memory
3 problems about the issue. In fact, her memory was so 4 bad at trial she didn't even get her age right. She 5 testified under oath she was eighteen when this 6 occurred. According to her date of birth, she was 7 sixteen. It's a minor fact, but it illustrates that 8 this happened a long time ago and her memory was not the 9 best.

10 Looking at the witnesses' testimony
11 individually, there are a lot of issues that deal with 12 reliability of these witnesses. It gets even worse when 13 you match them up next to each other. Their 14 descriptions, the description of the suspect -- 15 Mr. Cooper said they're wearing baseball caps. Miss 16 Friend said they're wearing black skull caps. Then a 17 third witness, Mr. Wade (phonetic) said hoodies.

18 Three different witness; three different 19 descriptions.

20 As far as the hair, which was the only aspect 21 that Mr. Cooper really gave any relevant description of, 22 that the suspect had collar length curl and the other a 23 pony tail. Miss Friend said you couldn't see the hair 24 because it was under the skull caps.

1 There is a lot of inconsistencies here. Not 2 only were there inconsistencies between the witnesses' 3 identification testimony, but their descriptions of the 4 event at the time were inconsistent. There were some 5 minor things where they got -- they were inconsistent 6 about things like the weather. One said cold. The 7 other said it wasn't cold. Things like that.

8 But the primary issue had to deal with the 9 events leading to the robbery. You had testimony from 10 Mr. Cooper who said he made his delivery. He was coming 11 back to his bread truck with the trays in his hand. At 12 that time Miss Friend approached him to ask him for 13 money. Mr. Cooper stated that he didn't give her any 14 money because he had the bread trays in his hand, so he 15 was going to his truck to put the bread trays back, and 16 that's when the suspect approached him, hit him, and the 17 suspect went into the van at that time.

18 According to Mr. Cooper, Miss Friend was never 19 in the van or the truck, and she never received money 20 from Mr. Cooper.

21 Yet Miss Friend gives a different side of the 22 story. She said she was talking to Mr. Cooper inside 23 the truck, not outside. She said that Cooper had 24 already given her money and that she was getting off the

1 truck when she bumped into one of the suspects, and then 2 the suspects went on into the truck to commence the 3 robbery.

4 You have two different witnesses; two 5 different stories of what happened.

6 Given the inconsistencies not only in the 7 description of the event, but in the identifications of 8 witnesses, there is too many inconsistencies to believe 9 that these witnesses were reliable.

10 And I believe the case cited to you was an 11 Illinois case of People vs. McCarthy where they likewise 12 found too many inconsistencies in the witnesses' 13 testimony to conclude that the jury was correct in 14 finding there was, that they were guilty beyond a 15 reasonable doubt.

16 Now, on top of the inconsistencies between the 17 eyewitnesses, you also, the Court should also consider 18 that there was a pre-trial suggestive photo array and a 19 pre-trial suggestive lineup, and that the 20 identifications that happened pre-trial didn't happen 21 for eleven years after the incident, and that the 22 in-court identifications happened over fourteen years 23 after an incident.

24 In other words, there is no identifications

1 made by anybody in the first eleven years since that 2 incident occurred.

3 Now, you take all this together, the 4 inconsistencies in the testimony, their lack of 5 descriptions, and the length of time, all this suggests 6 that their identifications are not reliable and cannot 7 uphold the jury's verdict.

8 In the two cases I wanted to direct your 9 attention to in the brief, with regard to the length of 10 time, the first was the (inaudible) case, the U.S.
11 Supreme Court case. In that case they stated a seven 12 month period from the incident to the time of the 13 identification was a very long time indicating 14 unreliability. And that's seven months. And in this 15 case, you know, we have a time span of over ten years.

16 In the Cassell (phonetic) case was also 17 another case, an Illinois case, where they found that 18 the reliability of the identification was insufficient.
19 In that case the witness had made a pre-trial 20 identification three years after the incident, and the 21 in-court identification didn't come until six years.

22 And even with those two cases, they were 23 substantially a shorter amount of time.

24 Here we have almost double that, or much more

1 time, and there is no way to believe that witnesses can 2 give a reliable identification after eleven years or 3 fourteen years, especially when you look at how 4 inconsistent this statements were. And their testimony
5 was to the Court.

6 Because these witnesses were unreliable, we 7 ask that you grant our motion for a new trial.

8 MS. O'CONNOR: In response, Judge, starting 9 with Paragraph 21, complaint of no physical evidence, 10 there wasn't any. But there is no requirement there has 11 to be physical evidence for someone to be found guilty.
12 So we'd ask you to discount that complaint.

13 And a revolver was used in this case. There 14 are no cartridge cases to be found. The bullets get 15 shot out of a gun and they are hardly ever recovered 16 unless they're recovered in the body of the dead person, 17 which it was in this case.

18 Because the other bullets that were shot
19 weren't recovered doesn't mean they weren't shot.
20 Bullets travel long distances. They lodge inside
21 buildings, cars, what-have-you. Only with a 22 semi-automatic you often find firearm evidence.

23 All the discrepancies Counsel alleges that 24 came up between Mr. Cooper and Miss Friend and that they

1 were of such a magnitude that this Court should vacate 2 the jury's finding, we would submit that if there were 3 discrepancies, they were not of great magnitude. They 4 were simply discrepancies that showed these were human 5 beings that told the truth and did not say they were 6 mirror images, because a human being views something, 7 and everyone's viewing of something is bound to be 8 slightly different than the viewing and remembrance of 9 another human being. And differences simply explain 10 that, Judge, that these are human beings, as we said in 11 our arguments. They're not robots.

12 The jury found they were credible. The jury 13 had no problem finding this defendant guilty. They were 14 not deliberating for a lengthy period of time.

15 And the identification, there is no evidence 16 they were suggestive. Counsel says they were 17 suggestive. Well, where is the evidence of that? You 18 know, the pictures are in evidence of the lineup, the 19 pictures of the photo array. The jury obviously didn't 20 find that.

21 But again, that is not an issue for a jury, 22 and this Court saw them, though, and it would be an 23 issue for the Court to decide. And I think the Court 24 would find there is no suggestivity in these

1 identification procedures.

2 But 28, Paragraph 28 makes a statement that 3 identification over ten years old should not suffice as 4 a matter of law. But what law is that? Where is that 5 principle that says that? Where is that? The cases he 6 cites talk about suggestive lineups. There was no 7 suggestive lineup in this case.

8 The time between the crime and the 9 identification is a negative factor. It's a factor to 10 be considered among many factors. And he fails to list 11 the other factors that were instructed to the jury and 12 the circumstances of identification instructions.

13 So certainly the jury was apprised that they 14 can consider that length of time and they decided that 15 it did not negate the identification of these two 16 people. And as this Court knows, the case law says an 17 identification of one person is enough to convict a 18 defendant of the crime he's charged with. That it can 19 be, I should say.

20 In this case there were two people that 21 identified him. And the jury again had no trouble
22 finding their testimony reliable, and there is nothing 23 in the record to indicate that it wasn't reliable, and 24 nothing to indicate that this Court should find the jury

1 was out of line and that their verdict was against the 2 manifest weight of the evidence.

3 You denied the Defense motion for acquittal at 4 the close of the State's case based on the evidence you 5 heard, and we would ask the Court to reiterate that 6 finding.

7 Nothing further.

8 MR. SALTIEL: As to the witnesses'
9 inconsistencies, I believe in this case it wasn't just a 10 few minor inconsistencies. They re-told two different 11 occurrences. And if they can't get that right, how can 12 we rely on their identification testimony? And how can 13 we rely on it that it's eleven years after the fact?

14 Granted, there is no case out there that says 15 it's been ten years, it's a per se exclusion that you 16 cannot identify someone at that time. It's a factor to 17 consider.

18 And the other factors are to look at the 19 length of time that the witness has to view, and the 20 descriptions of the event, and here there is no 21 indication that these people could be reliable because 22 they didn't give any details. They gave very vague, 23 general descriptions, and their descriptions of the 24 events that happened contradicted each other. And that

1 doesn't indicate any reliability of these witnesses.

2 Now, as far as the point with the lineups,
3 it's not that -- we're not arguing in this motion per se 4 they were impermissibly suggested as a violation of the 5 due process rights. But we are saying just in general 6 is that they were suggestive.

7 And I think they were. You had Mr. Fletcher
8 who is the only person in both lineups. That is an 9 indication that it was suggestive. Anybody who saw the 10 first lineup and sees the second lineup with only one 11 person in common, that is a suggestion right there. Who 12 do I pick out? Well, the same guy in the last one, 13 because everyone else is different.

14 You look at the photo array. There were huge 15 age discrepancies with most of the people in the lineup.
16 Some of them weren't old enough to be out on the streets
17 at that time. They were nine, ten years old. Now, a 18 lineup that includes those type of people obviously 19 cannot be completely unsuggestive.

20 And there were also physical descriptions that 21 were impaired in both the photo array and the in-person 22 lineup which were obvious from looking at the pictures.

23 So we put to the Court that the photo array 24 and the in-person lineup were suggestive.

1 And with the length of time, although I guess
2 the converse can be said to the State, that I don't 3 think there is any case out there that says that, you 4 know, identifications are good no matter how long they 5 are, in fact there, there is a very unique circumstances 6 that we have to deal with. All we can deal with are the 7 cases that are there, and most of these cases that come 8 up, we're talking about a year or two year maximum 9 delay.

10 The one case we were able to find was a three 11 year delay between the out-of-court identification and 12 six year in-court, and they clearly found that was too
13 long. In this case we are talking about a delay much 14 greater than that.

15 Given the fact that these witnesses' testimony 16 were inconsistent and unreliable, we find that the 17 evidence was against the manifest, or against the jury's 18 verdict, and we'd ask that you grant us our motion for a 19 new trial.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 The Court's review of issue Number 4, that the 22 verdict was against the manifest weight of the evidence, 23 in Paragraphs 20 through 30, and Counsel's argument 24 today, it became obvious to the Court that each and

1 every one of these arguments was presented meticulously
2 to the jury.

3 Just going over some of them, it was brought 4 out there was no weapon. It was brought out about 5 Mr. Cooper's involvement. It was brought out the photo 6 array. It was brought out the lineup. And even in 7 Paragraph 26, it establishes that the Defense impeached 8 Miss Friend.

9 So what we have here is the testimony of two 10 eyewitnesses, and there are cases that say eyewitnesses 11 testimony may be inherently or is inherently reliable.

12 There is also cases that say a single finger 13 ID could be sufficient depending on the facts of the 14 case. And the facts of this case, when Counsel 15 describes the inconsistencies, I believe you have to 16 look at the entirety of the testimony.

17 Mr. Cooper was honest. He said that he was 18 only 75 percent sure, and that was brought out.

19 Miss Friend testified what she saw, and that 20 she identified the defendant.

21 Both these individuals made identifications.
22 The conclusion in Paragraph 25 that they were only made 23 after a suggestive photo array and suggestive lineup, 24 again, that fact was once again meticulously argued to

1 the jury, every specific incident. It was even brought 2 out the defendant at the time of this incident had some 3 unique physical characteristics that were never 4 identified by anybody.

5 In looking at the entirety of their testimony,
6 I believe that the jury listened to their testimony,
7 weighed all of the arguments that I listened to once 8 again, all of the inconsistencies, all of the facts
9 before it, and decided that they had received 10 information of proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

11 Lastly, in regards to the proximate cause and 12 felony murder theory, I believe the State and the 13 Defense argued that once already. And I believe I ruled 14 that felony murder did apply.

15 Now, the Defense is basically asking this 16 Court to overrule the jury verdict that was found after 17 testimony at trial.

18 I listened to the arguments here today. I
19 understand that there were inconsistencies, that there 20 was a length of time beforehand. But I'm not going to 21 decide as a matter of law this case should be dismissed 22 here today. The jury's verdict was -- I believe we had 23 a reliable jury that took their notes, listened and 24 weighed the testimony of the evidence, listened and

1 weighed the testimony and the arguments of counsel, and 2 I do not believe that the facts presented here in the 3 motion or at trial would allow me to dismiss their 4 decision for a finding of guilty.

5 Therefore, on People's Exhibit No., I mean
6 argument Number 4, the motion will be denied.

7 That leaves us with the last issue, reversible 8 error.

9 MR. SALTIEL: You are -- there are actually 10 multiple issues raised. For the time being, we are 11 going to stand on our arguments in the papers, except 12 for one of the issues I would like to address briefly.

13 THE COURT: Go ahead.

14 MR. SALTIEL: And that is the State's, the 15 closing argument made by the State, which is Paragraph 16 C.

17 I believe there is two issues with the -- we 18 have two issues with the State's closing argument and 19 why we believe it is improper.

20 You know, first, there were -- we believe 21 there were several arguments that were made by the State 22 that were not supported by the evidence, both in their 23 regular closing and in their rebuttal.

24 I'm aware that the Court did give instructions

1 to the jury about that, that they are the trier of the 2 fact, they heard the evidence, they should pay attention
3 to that, over our objection. But we still think that 4 that had a prejudicial effect on the jury.

5 More importantly is that the State essentially 6 sandbagged us on our, their closing. They didn't really 7 give a closing argument. They gave a cookie cutter, any 8 murder case, plug in the facts, nothing special, for 9 their closing. They waited for us, and then they gave 10 their real closing in rebuttal.

11 Not only did they raise facts that were not 12 presented in evidence before the jury, they were raising 13 arguments we never raised in our closing.

14 And it's clear from the case law that, at 15 least in the one cases we cite for you, in that case, 16 rebuttal argument in that case constituted reversible
17 error because it was not based on evidence nor was it 18 invited by comments by the Defense.

19 And I think this is a similar case. There 20 were statements made by the State in its rebuttal 21 specifically that weren't supported by the evidence, 22 such as I believe at one point the State made the 23 argument that the eyewitnesses are reliable because, you 24 know, listen to their description on the hair and nose,

1 physical description that they gave. Well, they never 2 gave those physical descriptions. So that was one 3 example.

4 The other, not only were there factual
5 problems, I think there were responses, or the State 6 essentially responded to arguments that we never made in 7 our closing argument.

8 In particular, I think what happened is that 9 we had made several arguments in our motion for a 10 directed verdict that was not presented in front of the 11 jury. What the State did is they made a rebuttal 12 assuming that we had given those arguments to the jury.
13 And although issues we raised on the motion for a 14 directed verdict were not made to the jury, never 15 presented to the jury, then all of a sudden the State is 16 now arguing these issues never raised and they had no 17 idea about.

18 Based on this, we believe that the State's 19 closing argument was improper, and that alone
20 constitutes grounds to give us a new trial.

21 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, in response to that last 22 argument, I don't know what statements he's saying are 23 improper that were made during closing argument. It's 24 sort of hard to respond to the argument.

1 But it's our position that everything said in 2 rebuttal argument was rebuttal to what the Defense
3 brought up in their argument.

4 I don't know what sandbagged, how we 5 sandbagged them. If they wanted to object at that time, 6 they could have. I know Mr. Hill objected at one point
7 on Page 69. There's possibly a couple of other 8 objections. But there weren't many objections. So I 9 don't really know what they're saying was improper.

10 The Court made whatever rulings on their 11 objections at the time. I don't think the Court thought 12 the arguments were improper. And we submit that they 13 were based on the evidence.

14 I don't recall -- and I think Counsel is 15 incorrect in telling the jury that we told -- Counsel is 16 incorrect in telling the Court that we told the jury 17 that the witnesses gave any descriptions to the police 18 that they did not give. Certainly, if they objected to 19 that and the Court said the jury heard the evidence, 20 they can rely on their own recollection and notes. That 21 is an instruction to the jury that the arguments is all 22 that is, is just arguments, and they are to rely on the 23 evidence, and that the arguments are not evidence.

24 If there was any mis-statement made, I believe

1 that that instructions would certainly cure any mistakes
2 and mis-statements of the evidence.

3 But I don't recall any wholesale mis-statement
4 of the evidence, or wholesale sandbagging, or wholesale 5 argument that was not in response to their closing 6 argument.

7 Paragraph E, they say the Court erred in 8 prohibiting testimony from (inaudible.) That would be 9 asking for an opinion of these witnesses. It would be 10 impermissible and irrelevant in this case.

11 Certainly, if the Defense wanted to argue that 12 Rogers may have been involved in the incident and they 13 thought, and the Court thought that was a reasonable 14 inference therefrom, they could have. But to ask an 15 opinion of a lay person and even from a detective 16 whether someone may have been involved in the case would 17 be an impermissible conclusion to allow them to make.
18 There is no such thing as, you know, an expert in the 19 field of suspicion.

20 In Paragraph G, they allege that the State 21 violated their client's right to due process, relied on 22 testimony from Mr. Cooper that, assuming it knew to be 23 false, and allowing such testimony to go unrebutted -- 24 once again, an allegation that the State suborned

1 perjury in this incident and nothing to back it up. No
2 good faith basis whatsoever for such a statement.

3 Mr. Cooper is a man that came in and said he 4 was 75 percent sure of his identification. What it is 5 that they're saying he said that we knew to be false, I 6 don't know.

7 They say Cooper said he was shooting in a 8 certain direction when the State knew he had been 9 arrested for shooting the van. He was arrested for 10 possession of a gun, not for shooting Mr. Wade's van.

11 So once again, they're incorrect making 12 allegations that are false in this motion. And we 13 object to that.

14 There was never any determination as to who 15 shot that van. Mr. Wade thought it was Mr. Cooper. But 16 you know, that is a lay person's guess. There were two 17 men shooting, and certainly from the diagrams that were 18 used in this case and the photographs, it was clear that 19 it was only the defendant's bullet that could have 20 killed this victim, Judge.

21 And once again, he was not arrested for 22 shooting Mr. Wade's van. He was arrested for unlawful 23 use of a weapon.

24 The State argued in its rebuttal,

1 Mr. Fletcher, that he was not supposed to have a gun on 2 that truck. We submit that the Court ruled correctly in 3 all the areas that are listed in Paragraph 5. That we 4 had extensive arguments on all these issues, and we'd 5 ask this Court to concur in its prior rulings.

6 THE COURT: Okay.

7 Defense, your last word.

8 MR. SALTIEL: Well, at least according to the 9 arrest sheet, Mr. Cooper was arrested for more than just 10 unlawful possession of a weapon. He was also arrested 11 for aggravated assault against Mr. Wade. So we believe 12 that statement is incorrect.

13 Mr. Cooper only remembered being arrested for 14 unlawful possession of a gun. There is a distinction 15 there.

16 There were several arguments that the State 17 raised in its closing argument that were not raised in 18 the Defense's close.

19 First of all, there is this argument -- and a 20 lot of these came from the motion of a directed verdict, 21 you know, Mr. Cooper could have been responsible for 22 shooting the victim, it could have been his bullet.
23 That was not something we argued to the, to the jury 24 during close.

1 There was also the felony murder theory which 2 we argued on our motion for a directed verdict. That 3 was something she argued in her rebuttal. We never 4 presented that to the jury. We never made those 5 arguments.

6 And also this issue about why Cooper,
7 Mr. Cooper lied. He never stated why he lied. There
8 was only that he had lied. And that was his only 9 testimony. He lied to save his job, was something that 10 came out of the police reports. There was no direct 11 evidence of this.

12 None of these issues were raised, not only in 13 the Defense's closing statements, they weren't made in 14 the State's, what you call them, first closing 15 statements.

16 THE COURT: Opening close.

17 MR. SALTIEL: Opening close.

18 They also made other statements in the 19 beginning of their close such as they went through this 20 elaborate statement that Mr. Fletcher had a plan and 21 motive. There was no evidence of that presented at 22 trial. They made him out to be someone when there was 23 no testimony to support those statements.

24 We think, you know, all of these statements

1 you know, taken together, were improper for the State to 2 be making in its close. They were in fact saving their 3 close for the rebuttal argument. That was something 4 improper and they shouldn't have done.

5 As far as the other issues listed in Number 5, 6 for now, the Defense will rest on its positions, on 7 those positions, unless the Court would like to hear any 8 specific argument.

9 THE COURT: No. No thanks. I have looked it 10 over.

11 Going to the last issue before the Court,
12 Number 5, that the Court made other reversible errors, I 13 believe we have addressed this issue, that the Court 14 erred in denied Mr. Fletcher's motion to dismiss the 15 indictment for failure to commence this action within a 16 reasonable time, so I won't address that. That has been 17 addressed the second part of that is that Mr. , it goes 18 on to say Mr. Rogers who is a central figure in the 19 police investigation and a one time suspect until he 20 identified Mr. Fletcher was not present at trial.

21 Mr. Rogers was available prior to 1995 and again in 22 2002, but was unavailable at Mr. Fletcher's trial in 23 2005. Mr. Rogers is the key witness from the police 24 investigation because he originally led the police to

1 Mr. Fletcher. And Mr. Rogers only identified 2 Mr. Fletcher after the police went to question him about 3 his alleged involvement in the 1990 incident.

4 Furthermore, Mr. Rogers has friends, was 5 friends with Mr. Cooper and Miss Friend.

6 In light of Mr. Rogers' role, Mr. Fletcher
7 could not have had a fair trial without the opportunity 8 to cross-examine Mr. Rogers.

9 This has been a recurring theme in regards to 10 the Defense. However, the Court does not dictate who 11 the witnesses are going to be. That is a strategy by 12 the State and the Defense how they want to present their 13 case.

14 The fact that Mr. Rogers did not come in to 15 court and testify, I cannot decide based on that, 16 because there was never any legal argument by either 17 side that Mr. Rogers was unavailable and that we needed 18 any service of process to bring him in.

19 I have addressed this issue before in regard 20 to there had been motions by the State in attempting to 21 locate him. The State decided after there was a demand 22 for trial to proceed without Mr. Rogers. At that time 23 the Defense had the opportunity to continue with their 24 demand, ask for a continuance, or to proceed to trial.

1 The decision to proceed to trial knowing that Mr. Rogers
2 wasn't going to be present was a Defense tactical 3 decision.

4 Therefore, for the Defense to tell, ask the 5 Court now, it wasn't a fair trial without him, this 6 Court was never asked to continue the case to bring in 7 Mr. Rogers, was never asked to issue any warrant for 8 Mr. Rogers.

9 Therefore, the last thing I have to say in 10 regard to Mr. Rogers is that this Court does not dictate 11 what witnesses should be presented to prove the State's 12 case or to prove the Defense case.

13 I'm moving on to Paragraph B, that the Court
14 erred in stating that it would have allowed Officer
15 Martin to testify about Mr. Rogers' bad acts in regards 16 to 1990. I believe the issue at that time was that the 17 Defense had Officer Martin who made an arrest or was 18 familiar with Mr. Fletcher in 1990, and they wanted to 19 call him to testify that of his physical character.

20 And a sidebar, at a motion, the State 21 presented or argued that they would then be able to 22 question what were the circumstances surrounding the 23 contact with Officer Martin and Mr. Fletcher. The 24 identification would not come in in a vacuum. The

1 Court's ruling was if Officer Martin testifies, the 2 State would be able to cross him in regards to what 3 specifically those contacts were.

4 In regards to the last part of that Paragraph, 5 that Mr. Martin would have been a, Officer Martin would 6 have been a non-biased witness who could have affirmed 7 that their witness did not match the witnesses'
8 description of the suspects, and he would anticipate a 9 witness' description to include a reference to 10 Mr. Fletcher's large lips, Officer Martin if he were 11 able to testify could not testify to what somebody else 12 would have or would not have done.

13 So that particular part of the paragraph would 14 not make any sense here.

15 Going on to Paragraph 3, the crux -- not the 16 crux, but the argument that was elicited was it was 17 improper arguments in a closing statement. In regard to 18 the closing statement, the opening close by the State, 19 the close by Defense and then the rebuttal by the State, 20 in rebuttal argument the State has the opportunity to 21 rebut any evidence, any arguments or inferences. And I 22 believe that there are inferences, aspects here are the 23 inferences that were brought out at trial.

24 And I recall specifically the Defense argued

1 quite clearly and credibly and persuasively their point
2 of view. It was a lengthy argument. I can't remember 3 how many pages. But it basically again went over every 4 aspect of the case, every inconsistency, every reason 5 that the jury should not believe the State or their 6 witnesses.

7 I don't believe that there was any improper
8 arguments in the rebuttal, and I think I have to say
9 that was because of the thorough nature of the Defense
10 arguments. As a cliché, they left no stone unturned.
11 And I think the State was able to get into a lot of 12 those arguments because of the length of it and the 13 inferences.

14 But the Defense presented in the Court's 15 opinion a detailed analysis of each and every witness 16 from the time this investigation basically began to the 17 trial. And the State had an opportunity to rebut or 18 argue against those inferences.

19 I don't believe this was an issue of the 20 State's sandbagging. I believe the rebuttal was proper.

21 With regard to Paragraph D, the Court erred by 22 prohibiting Mr. Fletcher from questioning Mr. Wade about 23 statements and behavior of the police when the police 24 questioned Mr. Wade about the incident, it goes on to

1 say during his investigation, Mr. Fletcher learned that 2 the police made statements to Mr. Wade that implicated
3 Mr. Fletcher in this incident prior to the police
4 showing Mr. Wade a photo array.

5 I'm a little concerned here, because 6 Mr. Fletcher according to this, performed some of his 7 own investigation. But I believe that the Defense or 8 the State can only question if there is a good faith 9 basis that they would have an ability to prove that up.
10 That statement by Mr. Fletcher, I don't believe the 11 Defense could have questioned him, if they were going to 12 prove it up. But you can't question somebody knowing 13 that you are not going to prove up the part of that 14 question. I believe that the issue was brought out at 15 trial in regards to Mr. Wade. I listened to both 16 arguments, and I ruled in regards to what I thought was 17 the proper decision.

18 In regards to Paragraph E, again, we go into 19 the issue of Mr. Rogers. I think I have addressed that 20 in regards to this Court doesn't control who the parties 21 decide to call as witnesses in a given case.

22 In regards to the Court's ruling on closing
23 statements or closing arguments, I believe the decisions
24 by the Court and the rulings were proper and the remarks

1 proper. Therefore I will not address anything further 2 on F.

3 And in regards to the State's decision to 4 argue Mr. Cooper's actions on that day that they knew to 5 be false, I don't see that. I believe, again, there's 6 logical inferences both ways that were argued.

7 And thereafter in regards to the entirety of 8 the Sub 5, motion for a new trial will be denied.

9 That leaves us, Counsel, with the pre-sentence
10 investigation.

11 Have both sides had an opportunity to review 12 that document?

13 MS. O'CONNOR: I have, Judge.

14 MR. HILL: I have not.

15 THE COURT: You don't have the PSI?

16 MR. HILL: No.

17 THE COURT: Well it's been filed.

18 MS. O'CONNOR: On March 21.

19 THE COURT: I'll give you a copy, and we'll 20 take some time and go over it with your client.

21 My question is when you are done with it, are 22 there any changes, deletions, or additions prior to 23 starting?

24 MS. O'CONNOR: I definitely have an issue I

1 need to bring up.

2 The pre-sentence investigation --

3 THE COURT: Hold on. He doesn't have a copy.

4 He'll have to take a look at the copy.

5 MS. O'CONNOR: Is there only a blue-backed 6 copy in the court file?

7 THE COURT: Yeah, that's all I see.

8 MS. O'CONNOR: Which indicates the second copy

9 --

10 THE COURT: Well, there was a second copy
11 handed out.

12 I don't necessarily put that on the record.

13 But having said that, we'll be able to get a copy.

14 I'm sorry. No.

15 Counsel, it's in here.

16 MS. O'CONNOR: Does the Court anticipate 17 proceeding to sentencing?

18 THE COURT: Are both sides ready today?

19 MR. HILL: We're not ready.

20 MR. SALTIEL: Our position, there are some 21 issues with his background and length of time we'd like 22 to investigate for sentencing.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 It's pretty late, too.

1 What date are we looking for?

2 Can we address your issue?

3 MS. O'CONNOR: I hope so.

4 THE COURT: Let's try to do that before we 5 proceed for the day, so you can put notes on that 6 whatever the State is going to bring out at this time.

7 MS. O'CONNOR: What I notice about the PSI,
8 the rap sheet, the Chicago, I should say, the Chicago 9 criminal history by CPD is on the new, on their new 10 format, which I believe is part of the CHRIS system, by 11 the Chicago Police Department in this case earlier on 12 which this case first was indicted are under the old 13 format, and that was tendered to Counsel.

14 Now, the problem is that the defendant's 15 murder conviction from 1980 is not reflected on the new 16 version of the rap sheet. And I certainly don't know 17 why that would be. It's on the old version.

18 And I can show the Court what I'm talking 19 about.

20 THE COURT: That's okay.

21 MS. O'CONNOR: But I would ask leave to make 22 this a part, the old version a part of the PSI.

23 THE COURT: I'll let you make copies.

24 MS. O'CONNOR: They have a copy of it.

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 If you have a copy, I'll make it part of the 3 PSI.

4 Is there any other material that you're going 5 to be tendering at the sentencing hearing in regards to 6 his prior background?

7 MS. O'CONNOR: Any other material --

8 THE COURT: Certified copies.

9 MS. O'CONNOR: Oh, I do have certified copies,
10 Judge.

11 THE COURT: Have you made a copy for the 12 Defense?

13 MS. O'CONNOR: I don't know if they have 14 copies of those or not.

15 THE COURT: Let's do this.

16 I'll give you a couple of weeks to get 17 everything together in regards to the certified copies.

18 Defense, I'll give you as much time as you 19 need to investigate that, and we'll set it down for 20 sentencing at an agreeable date.

21 MR. SALTIEL: Your Honor, just to clarify, 22 we'd like to request that the State provide us with 23 whatever documents they're going to us, if they're going 24 to attach the criminal history, just in case there is --

1 THE COURT: Well, he does have the criminal 2 history now. They have the old system, the old, I'll 3 called a rap sheet --

4 MS. O'CONNOR: That was tendered with the 5 discovery.

6 MR. HILL: I don't know what she's talking 7 about. I'd appreciate if she can just get a copy of 8 what she is talking about. It seems to be simple 9 enough.

10 THE COURT: So you are tendering a --

11 MS. O'CONNOR: Judge, I -- it's the old 12 version of the Chicago criminal history prior to the 13 CHRIS system. This is the rap sheet tendered with 14 discovery.

15 But I'll make a copy and tender it to Counsel 16 again.

17 MR. HILL: Thank you.

18 THE COURT: And then, you also make copies of 19 the certified convictions?

20 MS. O'CONNOR: Yes.

21 I can show them to them right now, if they 22 want to see them.

23 THE COURT: Yeah. But I think they want to 24 investigate the whole matter and I'll give them time to 1 do that.

2 MR. SALTIEL: What date are you looking for?

3 THE COURT: Whatever date you want.

4 In the meantime, tender any discovery, all
5 discovery should be tendered back and forth.

6 MS. O'CONNOR: I'll FAX those to their office
7 when I go back to my office.

8 THE COURT: What date are we looking for?

9 MS. O'CONNOR: I'm here every day.

10 THE COURT: So am I.

11 Counsels, what's a good day for you?

12 MR. SALTIEL: I think sometime in the last 13 week of July.

14 THE COURT: How is the 29th -- or, I'm sorry.
15 The 28th.

16 MR. HILL: Looks like the 28th is fine.

17 THE COURT: By-agreement, 7-28-05, for 18 sentencing.

19 The PSI is tendered. State will tender 20 additional discovery.

21 What I'd like to you do also is tender each 22 other, if there is going to be witnesses, a list of 23 witnesses for the sentencing hearing.

24 Thank you.
